NEW NORMS TO CURB FAKE, PAID REVIEWS ON AMAZON, FLIPKART

E-commerce platforms will now have to disclose all paid consumer reviews of products and services on their sites

COMPLIANCE WILL BE VOLUNTARY INITIALLY

The Department of Consumer Affairs on Monday launched a framework titled 'Indian Standard (IS) 19000:2022 'Online Consumer Reviews — Principles and Requirements for their Collection, Moderation and Publication'. Initially, the standards will be voluntary for compliance by e-commerce firms but may be made mandatory if the menace continues

NEW STANDARDS TO PROTECT CONSUMERS

■ Online reviews play a vital role in making purchase decisions on e-commerce platforms and, therefore, reviews should be legitimate, accurate and not misleading, said Consumer Affairs Secretary Rohit Kumar Singh. "We are probably the first country in the world to formulate standards for online reviews," he added

IS 19000:2022

First Rahul-Modi sparring match on Guj turf

Cong leader takes break from Bharat Jodo Yatra, reaches out to tribals in his first rally

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

CAMPAIGNING for the December 1 first phase of Gujarat Assembly elections became spicy on Monday with Congress leader Rahul Gandhi addressing his first poll rally in the state, and Prime Minister Narendra Modi mocking him over his Bharat Jodo Yatra.

At a rally Rahul addressed in Mahuva in Surat district after taking a break from the yatra, he sought to strengthen his party's traditional bond with tribals in Gujarat, saying they have the first right to land and forest resources across the country.

Criticising the term Vanavasi used by the Bharatiya Janata Party to describe the tribals, Rahul alleged that the real intention behind using this term is to keep the tribal population in the forests, far away from modern education and health facilities. Pointing out that the Adivasis are real owners of the land and forests in India, he went on to allege that the current dispensation at the Centre wants to strip the tribals off their land and give them away to a few industrialists.

As for Modi, he took pot shots at Rahul without naming him at a public meeting in Surendranagar, saying those who have been thrown out of power by the people are now taking out a padyatra to return to power.

"Some people are doing a padyatra to get back to power. They are also taking along those who had stalled the Narmada dam project for 40 years through litigation and kept Gujarat thirsty. In this election, people of Gujarat will punish those who were against the Narmada project," he said, alluding to anti-dam activist Medha Patkar joining Rahul's yatra in Maharashtra a few days ago.

He went on to attack the Congress claiming it does not talk about development during elections any longer. "Instead, Congress leaders are saying they will show Modi his aukat (status). Just look at their arrogance. They do belong to a royal family, while I am merely a servant having no aukat," Modi quipped.

At Rahul's rally, Bharatsinh, son of former Congress heavyweight Madhavsinh Solanki, attempted a live translation of his speech in Hindi into Gujarati but made a hash of it. The crowd cheered as Bharatsinh was taken off midway by candidate Anant Patel. Rahul went on speaking in Hindi much to the relief of the gathering.

There was a time when there was acute water shortage. I had said Surendranagar district will be the biggest beneficiary of the Narmada project. Today, I stand validated

They want you to live in the jungles. After that, they start taking away the jungles from you. If it continues, in another 5-10 yrs, all the jungles will be in the hands of 2 to 3 industrialists

MANGALURU BLAST ACCUSED HAD DEEP LINKS WITH ISIS

DIVYA CUTINHO @ Mangaluru

MOHAMMAD Shariq, the main accused behind the low intensity blast in an autorickshaw in Mangaluru on Saturday evening, is said to be having connections with the global terror organisation Islamic State of Iraq & Syria (ISIS).

Hours after Shariq's relatives identified him on Monday, Additional Director General of Police (ADGP), Law and Order, Alok Kumar, addressed media persons and said Shariq, whose immediate handler is Arafat Ali, an accused in the terror graffiti case, has connections with the ISIS and is part of the Islamic State's Al Hind module. Arafat, too, is alleged to have links with ISIS.

Alok Kumar said Shariq, a BCom graduate, visited Mangaluru on November 10, may be to finalise a location for bomb blast, although it is still not known where he wanted to plant it.

"Shariq was handled by Abdul Matheen, a wanted suspect in terror activity facing Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act (UAPA) case in Bengaluru and his immediate handler, Arafat, is said to be operating from Dubai now. Meanwhile, Shariq had posed in a signature style of ISIS holding the cooker bomb with Improvised Explosive Device (IED) installed to it."

A police officer involved in the investigations, on condition of anonymity, said Shariq was influenced by Zakir Naik, a controversial Islamic evangelist and Indian fugitive. "Shariq has handlers in Dubai with Al Ummah group. Thirthahalli is their base, and from this group, Abdul Matheen is on the National Investigation Agency (NIA) watch list since four years. These accused get trained to make bombs online, are exposed to ISIS propaganda videos, dark web browsing on bomb making etc. They were influenced by Zakir Naik's speeches and wanted the Shariah to be implemented across the world," said another credible source.

The sources said Shariq chose Mangaluru because his act would get enough publicity and traction as the city is communally sensitive.

Congress to move SC against release of Rajiv case convicts

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

DAYS after the Centre moved the Supreme Court against the premature release of six convicts in the Rajiv Gandhi assassination case, the Congress on Monday said that it will file an intervention application in the review petition filed by the government. "We will file an intervention application in the review petition filed by the Centre," AICC general secretary Jairam Ramesh told this newspaper. Intervention application means that a third party (intervener) may file a plea to 'interrupt' the proceedings of a case and claim a right to hearing in the interest of justice. Sources said the Congress will file the application in a few days, probably this week itself.

On November 11, the Supreme Court had granted premature release of Nalini Sriharan, Robert Pais, Ravichandran, Suthenthira Raja alias Santhan, Shriharan alias Murugan and Jaikumar, who were serving life sentence in the case.

Goldman Sachs, Crisil say India's growth will slump

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

WHILE India has so far managed to steer clear of the heat of the global slowdown, rating agencies feel the coming year will be different, as they continue to cut the country's GDP growth projection for 2023.

In the latest round of revisions, Goldman Sachs, Crisil and Icra have slashed India's growth prospects. While Goldman Sachs has cut India's growth projection to 5.9% in calendar year 2023 from 6.9% growth this year, Crisil revised down India's FY23 growth forecast to 7% from 7.3% projected earlier. On its part, Icra halved the FY23 second quarter growth estimate to 6.5% citing higher input costs and low external demand.

"We expect growth to be a tale of two halves in 2023, with a slowdown in the first half," Santanu Sengupta, India economist at Goldman Sachs, said in a note on Sunday. "In the second half, we expect growth to re-accelerate as global growth recovers, the net export drag declines, and the investment cycle picks up," he added.

Crisil, which sees GDP growth further slowing down to 6% in fiscal 2024, cited the slowdown in global growth that has started impacting India's exports and industrial activity. "This will test the resilience of domestic demand," said Dharmakirti Joshi, chief economist at Crisil.

India's merchandise exports dropped 17% in October 2022 to $29.73 billion from $35.78 billion in the same month a year ago, while merchandise trade deficit rose to $27 billion.

According to Aditi Nayar, chief economist at Icra, Q2FY23 economic growth will moderate on account of mixed crop output and the ripple effect of global slowdown.

4 COPS ON THE RUN AFTER ROBBING JEWELLER OF ₹5L

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chikkamagaluru

IN a case of fence eating the crop, four policemen robbed a jeweller of Rs 5 lakh in Chikkamagaluru district and are absconding. The jeweller and his father have said that they were being forced by the cops to pay them Rs 10 lakh.

The incident occurred when Rohit, son of jeweller Bhagavan, was on his way to Belur in his car to hand over 2 kg of gold jewellery to a merchant. On the way, two policemen stopped the car at Bukkamabudhi Gate. They got into the car and took Rohit to a police sub-inspector who was some distance away.

From there, the two policemen forced Rohit to drive to a remote place where they demanded Rs 10 lakh from him. They threatened Rohit that they would arrest him on charges of illegally transporting jewels.

Though Rohit showed them documents related to the jewellery, the policemen did not relent and demanded the amount. Rohit managed to get Rs 5 lakh from a merchant at Ajjampura and gave it to the policemen.

The accused have been identified as Lingaraju, station officer at Ajjampura police station, Dhanapal Naik of Sakrayaptna police station, Omkaramurthy of Kudrmukh police station and Sharathraj of Lingadahalli police station.

The incident took place in the month of May. Based on Bhagavan's complaint, an inquiry was ordered.

The probe team found that the allegations against the four policemen were true. Police have launched a manhunt for the accused who are absconding. A case has been registered.

Chief Secy, officers brainstorm on traffic

Congress stages protest, says govt has no solution to decongest city

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

CHIEF Secretary Vandita Sharma on Monday conducted a high-level meeting with senior officials of various departments to chalk out solutions for the city's perennial traffic nightmare.

The meeting decided to develop infrastructures at ten junctions, including Silk Board, Iblur, Jayadeva, Hebbal and Goraguntepalaya, in Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) limits.

Sharma also advised the traffic police to alert the BBMP about potholes so that they are immediately filled.

Additional Chief Secretary Rajaneesh Goyal and Police Commissioner Pratap Reddy also attended the meeting along with Urban Development Department additional chief secretary Rakesh Singh.

Meanwhile, Congress members, led by party leaders Krishna Byregowda and Ramalinga Reddy, staged a protest near the Hebbal flyover demanding a solution to the traffic woes on the busy Ballari Road.

The protesters raised slogans against the BJP government and demanded immediate implementation of an action plan to decongest traffic at the flyover and near Esteem Mall. The Congress leaders said Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, who also holds the post of Bengaluru in-charge minister, had failed to solve the traffic issues in and around the city.

The Congress leaders suggested that another flyover should be constructed at Hebbal to address the traffic issues. Residents of the vicinity, who were also part of the protest, said the government has no permanent solution to address the traffic issues. They said traffic density opposite Esteem Mall is very high and the traffic police are also fed up managing the traffic.

The residents said while the government had dropped the plan to construct an elevated flyover from Chalukya Circle to Hebbal, it has still not come up with any solution to address the bottlenecks at the entrance of the flyovers.

It may be recalled that Bengaluru traffic police recently issued a notification prohibiting the movement of all goods vehicles from Sadahalli Junction to Hebbal flyover between 8.30 am and 10.30 am to traffic congestion.

Master plan to deal with traffic: CM

Bengaluru: After appointing a special commissioner for traffic management, a master plan is being prepared to deal with high traffic density, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said here on Monday. New offices of the special transport commissioner and traffic police stations will be set up. Bengaluru Police Commissioner Pratap Reddy has been asked to take a call on opening of new traffic police stations, where density of traffic is high. Under the Nirbhaya scheme, 7,500 intelligence cameras are installed to monitor non-stop vehicle movement, Bommai said. ENS

Varthur Rd height limit bar lowered, resident say traffic improved

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

AFTER schoolchildren were stuck in traffic for over two-and-a-half hours on Varthur-Balagere Road and had to return home without attending school last week, authorities altered the 'height limiter' to prevent trucks from plying on the road. The flow of traffic has improved now, the residents said.

After the travails faced by children, residents held candle light protests, demanding that the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) cancel permission given for new constructions which have increased the movement of heavy trucks and tankers, causing traffic jams on the stretch.

"The work to reduce the height of the limiter was taken up around midnight on Friday. It has been brought down from 11 feet to 10 feet. Most school buses passed through the road on Monday. A few could not and they took an alternative route," said Kavitha Raghuram, General Secretary, Mahadevapura Residents Welfare Association.

Clement Jayakumar, Secretary, Mahadevapura Task Force (Mobility), said the traffic police carried out the work as directed by area MLA Aravind Limbavali. "The barricade has been reduced in such a way that HTVs, like 10 wheel tippers and big tankers cannot pass through. We received positive feedback today. We will observe it on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and conclude if this simple intervention has been effective. This is only a short-term measure and the permanent solution would be to complete the land acquisition and create a wide and straight road," he added.

Keshavamurthy, Assistant Sub-Inspector, Whitefield Traffic Police Station, who monitors traffic at Panathur Junction, said policemen are stressed here during peak hours as the road is narrow and traffic high. "Despite Monday being a busy day, we could see improvement. Nearly 85 per cent of school buses of 9 feet height easily passed through," he added.

But a few other residents complained that bigger school buses now have to take a longer route. "No prior information was given and it led to a lot of inconvenience," said Ashok Mruthyunjaya, AAP president, Mahadevpura.

BBMP, BDA properties to be used for public services, says Bommai

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai during the groundbreaking ceremony of a commercial complex at Bommanahalli in Bengaluru on Monday | EXPRESS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru:

PROPERTIES belonging to BBMP and BDA must be utilised for public service, and commercial complexes must not be reserved for commercial activities but be used as government offices and other citizen services too, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said here on Monday.

Laying the foundation stone for a new commercial complex being constructed on behalf of Karnataka Rural Infrastructure Development Corporation (KRIDL) in Bommanahalli, Bommai said the city has been growing on all sides, and needs additional staffers, engineers and joint commissioners. "They are unable to work from their head office owing to lack of space. Although the government spends money on construction of offices every year, space is still insufficient," he said.

"The commercial complexes will also become government property. A nine-storey building is being constructed at a cost of Rs 91 crore. The private property will be handed over to private people," Bommai added.

12 high-density roads to be constructed

Foreigners visit Bengaluru, just like Delhi, and over 5,000 new vehicles are registered daily. For a population of 1.30 crore, there are 1.56 crore vehicles. Dense traffic is common in all international cities, and the government has taken several measures to deal with this problem.

A sum of Rs 280 crore was released to build 11 high-density roads, and these will connect to Bengaluru from other important cities. This project has been under the Nagarothana scheme. Under various schemes, Rs 800 crore has been granted for the development of the city.

The awards were given to enterprises and institutions who had completed over 25 years in Karnataka and contributed towards building the state's IT, electronics and biotech ecosystem. ENS

Sabarimala pilgrims can carry coconuts in cabin bag

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

THE Bureau of Civil Aviation Safety (BCAS) on Monday evening decided to permit pilgrims heading to Sabarimala to carry coconuts in the cabin baggage on flights across India. The decision comes in the wake of several pilgrims being told by the Kempegowda International Airport (KIA) security personnel that the Irumudi should be put in the check-in baggage.

Joint Director of BCAS, Jaideep Prasad, told The New Indian Express, "We have been receiving requests in this connection from our regional offices. Keeping religious sentiments in mind, we have decided to permit coconuts to be carried in the cabin baggage during the Sabarimala season. Of course, all airports will be asked to deploy additional security staff to facilitate the screening of the pilgrims." The coconuts were not permitted earlier in line with the safety standards followed globally, he added.

Meanwhile, the Central Industrial Security Force (CISF), which carries out security checks, has been telling the pilgrims to put the coconuts into the check-in baggage. "We have been facilitating it and helping them to do it smoothly and quickly," said a top CISF official.

A designer of lights from Bengaluru had tweeted to the CISF a few of days ago accusing them of offending a pilgrim by mocking the carrying of prasad, calling it "insensitive and cruel." While the Irumudi was permitted as hand baggage earlier, the new rule disallowing them inside the cabin was introduced last year, said a security official. "This being the first pilgrim season post-pandemic, there is a huge rush to Kerala with many who missed out during the last two years keen to make it this year," he said.

Irumudi is the only travelling kit which a Sabarimala pilgrim carries on his head during the pilgrimage. Without the Irumudi, one is not allowed to step on the 18 holy steps at the Sannidhanam of the temple. In early 2018, separate trays were earmarked by the CISF at KIA for the sake of scanning of the Irumudi as pilgrims objected to them being placed in trays where shoes of other flyers were kept for scanning.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
There are times when a major career change seems to be unavoidable. Yet, although an upheaval is indicated in your chart, the stars' impact may now have diminished, and you'll be susceptible to pleas for improvement. Welcome developments will follow.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
This is a decisive period of the year for matters related to matrimonial contacts and all intimate relationships. In some senses emotional encounters and experiences will be a prologue to what will be taking place over the next three, marvellous months.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The future is not here yet, but it's coming fast. The great thing to remember is that approaching emotional lunar alignments are already having an initial impact on your consciousness. Happily, it is due to signify a whole new fresh start in family and domestic affairs.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You would be well advised to play safe and not try to even the score on the home front - even if a loved one has got the better of you. You have almost played your last card, and must now move with great circumspection. The emphasis must be on getting on with partners at all costs.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
You need to do your sums and not allow yourself to be sidetracked by what other people, perhaps lovers, or children, may want. At the heart of the matter is your need to press ahead with projects which may make very much more sense to you than to others.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You're walking a very thin tightrope and even a minor disagreement with loved ones could turn into a major source of conflict. It might be in your best interests to throw all arrangements and agreements into the melting pot, enabling new decisions to be made.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Current planetary positions indicate that you have all the ingenuity and intelligence to deal effectively with the tasks that lie ahead. But you may have to recognise that you will have to do without the personal support that has sustained you so far.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Your imagination is colourful indeed, but you have been rather over-influenced by your fantasies, and if you have taken them too far you may soon have some explaining to do! You must proceed with maximum caution, especially in joint financial matters.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
It is important to establish who is responsible for what, so you can feel more confident about the chances for success. This may not be a time for genuine partnership, but it is a fine moment for doing your own thing. Strike out by yourself and show other people the way.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
The past couple of years have undoubtedly been ones of upheaval, combined with periods of confusion. Your current stars indicate that now is the time to enquire within, coming up with unusual answers to familiar problems. If you're out on the town, be sure to let your hair down!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Your current experiences relate to developments which took place a few months ago, when Saturn, planet of long-range hopes, last occupied a similar position. When dealing with long-term responsibilities you should realise that only genuine teamwork will allow you a way out.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
It is beginning to look very much as if you are in the middle of a major career push. You must press ahead as hard as you can, making no allowance for other people's weakness or failure to fulfil their promises. This also happens to be a highly romantic period, so if you're ready for love, you could be pleasantly surprised.

The Karnataka High Court has quashed criminal proceedings, based on a complaint filed bySRS Travels, against Scania Commercial Vehicles India Pvt Ltd which deals with sale of buses. The court noted that the complainant had failed to repay the amount for the repair of buses which was close to Rs 91 lakh and had failed to pay the installments to Volkswagen Finance Private Limited which runs into Rs 40 crore

₹85 lakh highest paid by candidate in PSI scam: CID

YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru

THE Criminal Investigation Department (CID), which is investigating the police sub inspector (PSI) recruitment scam, revealed that a total of Rs 3.11 crore has been recovered from the accused.

HU Raghuveer, a candidate, had paid the highest amount of Rs 85 lakh to PSI Naveen Prasad to secure a post, CID said. Prasad, in turn, gave the same to another accused PSI Shariff Kallimani, who then transferred it to Harsha, the main accused, who was posted in the recruitment wing. Raghuveer was then delivered a carbon copy of the OMR sheet and the pen used in the exam. Harsha then allegedly marked the right answers on the OMR sheet.

The CID has also stated that the Forensic Science Laboratory report revealed that there was no tally between the OMR sheets and the carbon copy of the OMR sheets of 22 candidates, of the OMR sheets of 168 candidates seized.

This was disclosed by CID in an objection statement filed before K Lakshminarayana Bhat, 23rd Additional City Civil and Sessions Judge cum Special Judge (Prevention of Corruption Act). Meanwhile, the court on Friday had granted bail to 12 accused but rejected bail to an accused, Byadarahalli PSI Harish, who had allegedly collected Rs 30 lakh each from accused Madhu and Dileep Kumar, retained a cut of Rs 5 lakh before paying the rest to Harsha.

The court, while granting bail to 12 accused, had observed that chances of them fleeing from justice and tampering with the witnesses are remote and conclusion of the investigation and start of trial soon are unlikely, as the chargesheet comprises 20 volumes with more than 240 witnesses.

Jungle Resorts takes best safari vehicles, allege private resorts

ENS @ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Eco-Tourism Resorts Association and private resorts outside Nagarahole and Bandipur National Parks and Tiger Reserves, have approached the High Court against alleged discrimination in allotment of safari vehicles, and issuing new safari permits to new resorts in violation of government and court orders.

A division bench of Chief Justice Prasanna B Varale and Justice Ashok S Kinagi issued notice to the principal secretary and other authorities of the forest department, and Jungle Lodges and Resorts Limited (JLRL), after the plea was filed, seeking direction for fair allotment of safari vehicles and non-expansion of existing facilities.

The petitioners alleged discrimination in allocation of vehicles to guests of their resorts. Routes that fell in zones where there were good sightings of wildlife would repeatedly be allotted to vehicles of JLRL, and guests of private resorts would almost always be away from the sighting zones. JLRL is deliberately depriving guests of private resorts the real experience of national parks. A tripartite agreement was entered into to avoid discrimination, but has not been followed by JLRL, they added. Guests of the petitioner resorts were repeatedly allotted seats only in Canters, which are noisy and dilapidated. JLRL guests are almost always allotted jeeps for the safari which offer better comfort, the petitioners alleged.

Family escapes with injuries after riding on manhole cover

ENS @ Bengaluru

A couple and their 5-year-old daughter escaped with minor injuries after driving their scooter on iron plates kept to close a manhole. The incident occurred at Tagore Circle underpass in Basavanagudi traffic police limits around 10.30pm Sunday.

Suresh and his family were returning home after attending a function and were on the underpass at Tagore Circle, police said. He did not notice that the road was dug for fixing manhole plates, and lost balance as the front wheel skidded on the plates. The scooter was completely damaged, while his wife and daughter escaped with minor injuries. Passersby helped the family to avail first aid.

However, Basavanagudi traffic police did not register a case. Suresh spoke to the media and alleged that there was no warning sign around the manhole.

MAN CLAIMS TO BE A COP, ATTACKS FINANCE FIRM MANAGER WITH BLADE

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru

A 35-year-old zonal manager of a private finance firm was attacked with a blade and another sharp object, in Jayanagar 7th Block, after he refused to hand over money to the accused, who claimed to be a policeman.

Santosh Kumar Patil, a resident of JP Nagar 9th Phase, had gone for an evening walk when the accused, who was around 6ft tall, stopped him and demanded money. Patil was attacked in his lower abdominal area. He was rushed to a nearby hospital by his friend, where a medico-legal case was registered and the jurisdictional police was informed. Police are on the lookout for the unidentified man. The victim gave his statement to police at a private hospital in Jayanagar while undergoing treatment. The victim's office is located in Jayanagar 8th Block.

"The accused, who was on a red bike, stopped Patil and identified himself as a policeman. When Patil refused to give money, the accused pulled out a blade and threatened to kill him. When Patil tried to defend himself, the accused punched him in the stomach and attacked him with the blade. Patil managed to escape and called his friend for help. The friend shifted Patil to a private hospital," said an officer who is part of the investigation. The accused was booked under IPC 323 (causing hurt), IPC 324 (causing hurt by dangerous weapons), IPC 341 (wrongful restraint) and IPC 341 (criminal intimidation).

"The accused is yet to be arrested. The victim was discharged from hospital and is out of danger. The accused is said to have been under the influence of alcohol, and demanded money from the victim in the guise of a policeman. There was a similar offence in the vicinity, and a person identified as Mohammed Rafi, 29, a resident of Shivajinagar, was arrested in that case. We are checking if Rafi has any links to this case. Rafi had attacked another person over road rage," the police said.

GOVT HAS NOT DECIDED ON HANDING OVER PROBE TO NIA: CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Monday said the government has not taken any decision on handing over the Mangaluru autorickshaw terror blast case to the National Investigation Agency (NIA).

He said the accused, who was injured in the blast, is being treated. "There is a pipe in his throat and he cannot speak. His family members have confirmed his identity. We have given details to the NIA, but have not taken any decision to hand over the case to the central agency," he added.

The police have collected personal details of the accused and are probing his connections with various places. "After knowing his identity, the police are collecting more details, including his contacts, and old cases, if any. The police are checking if there is any organisation behind him. Once they get details, they will take further action," he added.

On Leader of Opposition Siddaramiah blaming the state government's for failure of law and order, Bomma said, "When Siddaramiah was chief minister, many such cases occurred. He cannot blame law and order for the present incident."

NIA TEAM VISITS MYSURU

A five-member team from the National Investigation Agency (NIA) reached Mysuru on Sunday night and began investigation into the Mangaluru bomb blast after it was revealed that the prime suspect identified as H Mohammed Shariq (24) was staying in a rented house in the city. It is also suspected that Shariq, a BCom graduate, underwent training in mobile phone repair in Mysuru. The NIA team will investigate the antecedents, contacts and places visited by Shariq in Mysuru. The team visited Shariq's room in Lokanayaknagar which he had taken on rent using fake documents. The NIA also took information about many incriminating material that were found in his room and other vital clues recovered by the police, bomb disposal squad and forensic teams who raided the room on Sunday. Meanwhile, Mysuru police continued to question Shariq's friend who is said to have supplied mobile phones and has found that the former had extensively visited Tamil Nadu since the last couple of months.

Also, intelligence network in Mysuru, including CCB officials and special branch, are collecting information on new tenants and keeping a strict vigil.

Concern over blast occurring on day of CM's visit to Mangaluru

DIVYA CUTINHO @ Mangaluru

WHILE the sensational auto rickshaw blast case is getting a lot of traction and the Karnataka police are investigating every possible angle, a matter of concern expressed is that the blast occurred on the day Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai was visiting Mangaluru.

Just hours before the low-intensity blast occurred at 5.15 pm on Saturday, Bommai had arrived in Mangaluru at 11 am and attended the event of unveiling the statue of freedom fighter Kedambady Rammayya Gowda, and left by 3.30 pm. The venue is 10 kilometers from where the blast occurred.

Dakshina Kannada BJP president Sudarshan Moodbidri told The New Indian Express that it is a major concern that the blast occurred within a couple of hours of the CM's visit. "As per preliminary investigation, the blast case is not accidental but an act of terror. During the CM's tour, the blast has occurred and it is shocking for us."

He said it was fortunate that a major mishap was averted, but pointed out that the coastal region was becoming a haven for terrorists and terror activities.

Moodbidri said it was impossible that the blast accused Mohhamed Shariq could have no local support, and that people need to be extremely cautious about it. "We have faith in the police department that they will unearth the whole ecosystem behind it and put an end to terror activities. The questioning of the accused will reveal where exactly he wanted to plant the bomb," he said.

"This is only to create fear in the minds of people and their attempt to show that they will continue with their terror acts. But they will not be successful in their attempts and the government is taking strict measures against such activities and those indulging in it," he said.

BLAST ACCUSED USED BITCOINS

ADGP Law and Order Alok Kumar said Shariq was frequently dealing with bitcoins and they will investigate further how he was getting this currency. "His handler Arafat Ali is in Dubai and we are trying to find out if anyone was sending money to Shariq and the support he got from outside. We are investigating who is funding Shariq and who knowingly harboured and sheltered him."

ACCUSED WORE THREE SHIRTS?

Sources and witnesses have alleged that the accused Shariq wore three shirts one on top of the other while carrying the pressure cooker with the bomb timer-circuit installed in it. "This is to change clothes to hoodwink the cops. He would change clothes every time he changed vehicles. This was to make it difficult for the police to track his movements through CCTV cameras," said a source.

Shariq had shared videos on bomb making with aides

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Shivamogga

MOHAMMED Shariq, the prime suspect in the Mangaluru cooker bomb blast case, is also an accused registered in a case in Shivamogga under the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act and Prevention of Insults to National Honour Act. Shariq used to send videos and documents related to making bombs to two of his associates who were also members of ISIS' official media centre Al-Hayat in Telegram, according to an investigation that the Shivamogga police conducted in September.

The police, who launched an investigation into the stabbing of one Prem Singh during Independence Day celebrations in Shivamogga, had arrested four people, including the main accused Zabiulla and invoked UAPA. The police found the role of Shariq in the stabbing incident by way of radicalising Zabiulla. During the course of the investigation, the police also found that Shariq had two associates, Maaz Muneer and Sayed Yaseen. Shariq and Maaz were involved in the 2020 Mangaluru graffiti case.

The Doddapete police, that probed the stabbing incident, found that a conspiracy was hatched to further the terror activities of ISIS and to disturb the unity, security and sovereignty of the country. They also found that the accused unlawfully possessed explosives endangering public property and life. They also burnt the National Flag. A separate case was registered in Shivamogga rural police station in this regard on September 19.

Material used in a bomb that was seized from the banks of the Tunga in Shivamogga in September

While Shariq was the main accused, Maaz and Yaseen were the second and third accused respectively. The police found that whenever Yaseen would meet Maaz and Shariq, they would allegedly discuss fundamental ideas and concepts of Jihad, the police said.

Shariq allegedly used to send PDF files, video and audio and links related to extremism, radicalisation, works of ISIS and other terror organisations etc. through messenger apps like Telegram, Signal, Instagram, Wire, Element, etc to Yasin.

After learning about the concept of making bombs in PDF files and videos shared by Shariq, the other two accused had allegedly purchased the timer relay circuits required for making bombs through an e-commerce site and batteries, switches, wires, matchboxes and other explosive material in Shivamogga. The accused had experimentally exploded the bomb made by them at a place locally known as Kemmangundi on the banks of the Tunga river in Shivamogga and the experimental blast was successful. They had also stored explosives, the police investigation found.

In the days following Independence Day, the National Flag was burnt near the spot where the bomb was tested and it was video graphed on their mobile phones. Shariq had allegedly sent the money needed to make the bomb to Yasin through cryptocurrency, the police had found. While Shariq is now hospitalised, Maaz and Yaseen are under judicial custody.

KARNATAKA POLICE TEAM VISITS COIMBATORE, DORMITORY SHUT

A special team of the Mangaluru Police visited Coimbatore on Monday as part of the investigation into the cooker bomb blast that injured two people, including the main suspect Mohammed Shariq, on Saturday. The five-member team headed by an inspector visited a dormitory in Coimbatore where Shariq had stayed a few days in September. They questioned the dormitory owner and the staff for more than an hour. Also, they visited a mobile shop at Gandhipuram where a SIM card was purchased after producing Aadhaar details of Surendran (28) of Thummanatty in Udhagamandalam in the Nilgiris and questioned the shopkeeper. The Coimbatore police closed the dormitory for investigation purpose on Monday. According to sources, another team from Mangaluru visited the native of Surendran on Monday. Surendran, who worked as a school teacher in a private school in Coimbatore and helped the Shariq for purchasing the SIM card which was used by him, was taken to Mangaluru by a special team of Tamil Nadu police for investigation, sources said.

2 FAKE AADHAAR CARDS

ADGP Alok Kumar has cautioned the public to intimate the police if they lose any Aadhaar or ID cards. "In this case, the accused (Shariq) used two different lost Aadhaar cards — one of Premraj Hutgi, the other of one Arun Kumar. Both of them who lost their Aadhaar cards were contacted and they were found to be innocent. Mohan Kumar, owner of the house in Mysuru where Shariq stayed from September had no information about Shariq and his activities."

TRAVEL HISTORY

The accused had arrived in Mangaluru via Mysuru, Hunasur, Madikeri, Puttur, BC Road in a bus with the pressure cooker inside his black bag. So far, the police have searched 7 locations, including four in Thirthahalli. At Mysuru, police found 150 matchboxes, 9 volt batteries, nuts and bolts, among other things.

Siddu applies to contest polls, but leaves decision on seat to top brass

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

CLP leader Siddaramaiah on Monday submitted his application to the KPCC to contest the Assembly elections. The deadline set by the KPCC to apply ended on Monday.

Siddaramaiah, however, did not name the constituency that he wishes to contest from. In the column for the choice of seat, the Badami MLA wrote "left to the high command", his supporters who submitted the signed application said.

As his son Dr Yathindra, MLA for Varuna, had submitted his application a couple of days ago, the suspense over Siddaramaiah's seat continued. He had recently ruled out contesting from Badami.

Siddaramaiah, who wants to return to Old Mysuru region after the 2018 defeat from Chamundeshwari, is holding his cards close to his chest on the constituency as his detractors are determined to defeat him, political pundits say

He has been looking at a 'safe seat' which has a sizable minority and Kuruba voters and Kolar is one of them.

But sources said he is expected to choose Varuna. In return, Yathindra is likely to contest the 2024 Lok Sabha polls from Mysuru. "He might select Varuna because it is home turf. Also, former CM BS Yediyurappa's son B Y Vijayendra is unlikely to contest from Varuna," said a political expert.

Panel finalises portrait of Bhuvaneshwari

A committee, constituted by the Kannada and Culture Department, has finalised the portrait of Naadadevathe Goddess Bhuvaneshwari and submitted it to the government. If approved, the same portrait has to be put up at all government schools, colleges and government offices across the state. The department had stated that different portraits of Naadadevathe are used in different platforms and the committee was formed to bring uniformity which will be endorsed by the government. The same portrait can be used in government offices, government schools and colleges and at all government events, the order stated. ENS

BJP leader UB Banakar flanked by KPCC chief DK Shivakumar and CLP leader Siddaramaiah after joining the Congress on Monday | SHASHIDHAR BYRAPPA

Banakar joins Cong, wants to fight from Hirekerur

As expected, two-term MLA Ujaneshwara UB Banakar of the BJP, an aide of former CM BS Yediyurappa, joined the Congress with his supporters in the presence of KPCC president D K Shivakumar and CLP leader Siddaramaiah, at the KPCC headquarters here on Monday. Banakar hails from the powerful Lingayat community, and is among a long list of leaders joining the Congress. Banakar was like a thorn in the side for Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai as he had won Hirekerur assembly seat, which is close to Bommai's constituency Shiggaon. Banakar resigned from the BJP primary membership and his other positions as chairman of Karnataka Warehousing Corporation and director of Veerashaiva Lingayat Development Corporation. His joining the Congress means he has effectively blocked the return of B C Patil to the Congress; the latter had quit the party and joined the BJP in 2019. Banakar submitted his application to contest from Hirekerur. "I worked with the BJP for three decades, but in 2018, B C Patil who won the seat from the Congress, joined the BJP. I will win the seat in 2023," said Banakar, who lost narrowly in 2018. ENS

Voter data theft: BBMP suspends 3 officials

ENS @ Bengaluru

ACTING on a probe report filed by the Additional District Election Officers (ADEOs) into the voter data theft case, BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath on Monday suspended three Additional Revenue Officers (AROs) and ordered a departmental inquiry against them. The four ADEOs from all four parliamentary segments, who were asked to probe the charges against Chilume, an NGO, over voter data theft under Systematic Voters' Education and Electoral Participation, submitted their report on Monday.

The three suspended officials are Bheema Shankar from Chikpete constituency, Chandrashekhar from Mahadevapura and Sohail S from Shivajinagar segment. Girinath said: "The three officials were accused of helping Chilume with fake ID cards as Booth Level Officers (BLOs) and Booth Level Committee (BLC) officials. More officials are likely to face action in the coming days. Today there are four reports with us in this regard. The BBMP will prepare a final report based on these reports which will submitted to the state Chief Election Commissioner. Strict action against those who have given BLO and BLC cards will be taken."

The office of the Chief Electoral Officer, Karnataka, on Monday said it had ordered an inquiry on November 17, and two FIRs were registered at Halasuru Gate and Kadugodi police stations. The officer also refuted the charges that names of people from a particular community/religion/caste were being deleted as it has no such powers. The names were deleted only due to reasons such as "dead, shifted or those having multiple names".

WILL SUBMIT MEMORANDUM TO EC, SAYS HD KUMARASWAMY

JDS senior leader HD Kumaraswamy said they will submit a memorandum to the Election Commission on Tuesday. Party president CM Ibrahim said, "We will protest. We will deploy party workers to help those whose names have been deleted. The cadres will go to mosques and other places of worship and help people out."

WE WANT JUDICIAL INQUIRY, SAYS AAP STATE CHIEF PRITHVI REDDY

AAP state president Prithvi Reddy said, "We will submit a letter to the Election Commission on Tuesday, seeking a judicial inquiry. The authorities should make public the list of names deleted so that voters can take measures to correct it. Our cadres will fan out to all aggrieved areas and help in restoring the names."

DKS: Not small fry, kingpins should be held accountable

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

KPCC president DK Shivakumar on Monday said they have sought time from the Election Commission to meet the chief electoral officer on Tuesday regarding the voter ID scam.

He said, "The returning officer has admitted to committing misdeed after getting orders from above. Those who passed orders too should be probed. The arrest of one or two people at the lower level does not mean that the case is solved. Action should be taken against those who are real masterminds and kingpins. An FIR should be registered against errant returning officers of all the 28 Assembly constituencies in Bengaluru." On CM Bommai saying the probe will start from 2013, he said, "We welcome it. If anyone, has misused the voter data, he should punished."

POLICE ASK NGO FOUNDER IF HE SOLD VOTER DATA

EXPRESS NEW SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CONTINUING the probe into the voter data theft scam, the Halasuru Gate police have intensified the questioning of the prime accused Ravikumar, the founder of Chilume NGO who was arrested on Sunday night.

The police, on Monday, produced Ravikumar before a court and sought his custody. The court remanded him in police custody till December 2. Ravikumar is the founder of the Chilume Educational Cultural & Rural Development Organisation, which was involved in the linking of Aadhaar numbers to voter IDs.

Police sources said Ravikumar was questioned about whether he has sold voter data to any organisation or persons. "A detailed questioning is underway to know how the NGO functioned, who funded it and the activities it is involved in. The focus of the probe is on the team that had access to voters' data and the software and apps used in the process. We are questioning him on whether he shared the voters' data with others not part of the work for any reasons including monetary gains," the police said.

It is said that Ravikumar is not cooperating with the investigation and dodging questions. He has also reportedly claimed that his mobile phone is missing but the police are trying to trace the same. However, the police have already accessed his call detail record and bank accounts statement.

"We are trying to retrieve information about his possible nexus with BBMP officials and politicians. Investigations are being carried out from multiple angles and it is believed that at least 4-5 others are involved in the scam," the police added.

A wagon of the train that climbed over a foot bridge of Korai Railway Station | EXPRESS

3 killed as goods train rams waiting hall

SUDARSAN MAHARANA & AMULYA PATI @ Bhubaneswar/Jajpur

A freight train coming from Dongaoposi towards Chhatrapur in Ganjam derailed on Monday at the Korei railway station and eight wagons rammed the waiting hall, killing three and grievously injuring four.

Parbati Bindhani, 56, and her daughter Kandhei Bindhani, 35, who were waiting at the station were crushed under the wall of the waiting hall after it collapsed from the impact.

Parbati, who was rushed to Korei community health centre, was declared brought dead, while her daughter was also declared brought dead at the Jajpur district headquarters hospital. The mother-daughter duo, arrived from Jachipur Ochinda village along with Kandhei's husband Balaram Bindhani, and their three-month old son Biswajit.

Balaram and Biswajit have sustained injuries, and were rushed to the Korei CHC for treatment, and later discharged.

"My mother and sister died in the mishap. While my father is differently-abled, I have two unmarried sisters to look after. We are poor, and demand a job in the railways and financial assistance," said Parbati's son.

Another woman, who was waiting for a passenger train to Cuttack to buy medicines for her differently-abled husband, was also killed. The victim has been identified as 47-year-old Abjun Bibi under Korei block, who died on the spot.

At least 15 trains were cancelled, while another six partially cancelled on the day. The East Coast Railway Zone also diverted 21 more trains including Bhubaneswar-New Delhi Rajdhani Express and Bangalore-Howrah Duronto Express.

VICTIMS TO GET ₹7L EX-GRATIA

Odisha CM Naveen Patnaik announced an ex-gratia of ₹2 lakh to each of the next of kin of the deceased and sent Revenue and Disaster Management Minister Pramila Mallik to the spot. Railways Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw announced an ex-gratia of ₹5 lakh to the next of kin of the victims. The minister also announced ₹1 lakh for the grievously injured and ₹25,000 for simple injury

PASSENGERS STRANDED

At least 210 passengers stranded at Haridaspur station were accommodated in Hyderabad-Shalimar East Coast Express, while others were provided road transportation to help reach their destination. "Since the main line was hit, we used alternative routes through Sambalpur and Keonjhar to divert long distance trains," said a senior officer.

Wildlife Bill amendment faces heat from experts

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

EXPERTS and conservation organisations have opposed the central government proposal to amend the Wildlife Protection Bill, 2022, with to stop man-elephant conflict and poaching of elephants.

The amendment, which is listed to be discussed in the upcoming winter session of the Rajya Sabha, has come under fire with experts informing the members in a letter that it will be create a special exception for transfer of ownership, for religious or other purposes, adding that it might lead to capture and hunting of wild elephants.

"This is a regressive step. Transfer of captive elephants as mentioned in the proviso is usually done through donating or gifting, which have always been, in most cases, an euphemism for commercial sale. Allowing transfer under section 43(2) is tantamount to a wildlife crime," said Suparna Baksi Ganguly, Wildlife Rescue and Rehabilitation Centre, Karnataka, who is one of the 13 signatories of the letter.

The signatories have stated that any new amendment must continue with the existing policy of phasing out private captivity and commercial use of elephants.

"Elephants are the only wild animals allowed to be owned through an exception in section 40 of the WPA, contrary to the tenets of the Wildlife Act and Constitution," the letter stated.

A senior forest department official, on condition of anonymity, said that although it is permitted to keep elephants in private spaces, it must stop as cases of cruelty are being regularly reported.

Jumbo task force will monitor Hassan, C'magaluru, Mysuru, Kodagu

BENGALURU: In the wake of increasing man-elephant conflict in four districts, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai held a meeting with officials and announced the formation of an elephant task force. Soon after the meeting, Bommai signed the orders for the formation of committees. He said the elephant task force, headed by the deputy conservator of forests, will be set up in Hassan, Chikkamagaluru, Mysuru and Kodagu districts, where cases are high. He said the task force should swing into action with immediate effect and work under instructions of the respective chief conservator of forests of the circles concerned. The job of the task force involves patrolling jumbo-infested areas, monitoring elephant movement in human habitations, agricultural fields and coffee estates, and driving them back into the forests. The committees must also share information about the movement of wild elephants, and create awareness among the people not to move in forest areas. The forest department must also set up control rooms in the headquarters of every task force, and share the contact number with citizens. The task force members must be provided walkie-talkies, guns and crackers to drive wild jumbos back into forests. The head of the forest force must deploy range forest officers, assistant conservator of forests and forest guards in each district task force. Three jeeps must be provided to each district elephant task force to reach the jumbo-infested areas immediately. Besides, vehicles must be taken on rent and handed over to the task force. Police help must be sought at the time of driving back the wild jumbos into forests.

Will fight for Marathi-speaking population in K'taka: Maha CM

BELAGAVI: Maharashtra Chief Minister Eknath Shinde, during the meeting in Mumbai of the high-powered committee on the boundary dispute with Karnataka, said that they will fight the case in the Supreme Court for the interest of the Marathi-speaking population residing in the border areas in Karnataka. Shinde said that two Cabinet ministers -- Chandrakant Patil and Shambhuraj Desai -- will be assigned to bolster its ongoing legal tussle with Karnataka. Maharashtra Deputy Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis, NCP leader Sharad Pawar, Prithviraj Chavan, leaders of MES, among others were present during the meeting. Senior legal expert Vaidyanathan will represent Maharashtra during the hearing, he added. Meanwhile, hitting out at the state government, Kannada leader Ashok Chandargi from Belagavi said that they are still in deep slumber. "Karnataka has not appointed a minister for the border row since 2018. There is no high-powered committee for the issues, and the state's Border Protection Committee has been lying defunct over the last three years. CM Basavaraj Bommai should appoint a minister in-charge for the issue," he said. ENS

Final decision on milk price in two days

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka government is likely to take a final decision on milk price after two days, as the Karnataka Milk Federation has sought time to fix the milk and curd price hike. CM Basavaraj Bommai has directed KMF not to increase the price by Rs 3, but also not cause a loss to either farmers or consumers. KMF has sought two days time, he said.

After a meeting with KMF officials, Bommai said he has sought details from them, including the price of milk and curd in other states. "I asked them about KMF's production cost and why they want to increase the price. I also sought to know what measures they have taken to reduce and stop leakage of milk," he said.

"Milk price keeps changing from time to time, but there are private players who will gain," he reportedly told the officials. When asked why the government is interfering with KMF's decision, he said KMF, "We are giving them subsidy. We are also using milk for our Ksheera Bhagya scheme. Moreover, it is the duty of the government to think of both farmers and customers."

IMD FORECASTS RAIN IN PARTS OF STATE FROM TODAY

Bengaluru: Parts of Karnataka including Bengaluru are likely to receive rain from Tuesday for the next three days due to depression over the Bay of Bengal, which might halt the plummeting mercury with minimum temperature at 16 degrees Celsius. A Prasad of IMD Bengaluru said that the depression over the Bay of Bengal on Monday could result in coastal regions of Karnataka receiving rainfall for four days, accompanied by thunderstorms and lightning. Moderate rain in Bengaluru Rural and Urban districts is expected from November 23, Prasad said. ENS

STRIKING A BALANCE BETWEEN ECOLOGY AND NATIONAL SECURITY

Development in ecologically sensitive regions presents a tightrope walk. The challenge is enormous when it's planned in one of India's most strategic locations, like the ambitious ₹72,000 crore project in Greater Nicobar Island (GNI). The multi-development project recently received Stage-I clearance from the government but the statutory clearance process is embroiled in controversy primarily because the project is sited in an ecologically fragile zone. Envisioned by NITI Aayog, the project includes an international container transhipment terminal, a Greenfield International Airport, a township and solar-based power plants. Apart from ecology, the region, situated at India's southernmost tip, is also strategically important. The project is vital in light of China's aggressive posturing in the South China Sea in the last two years, the sighting of its intelligence apparatus in the Indian Ocean, its plans to build infrastructure and military installations closer to the eastern Indian Ocean, and its relations with Sri Lanka. The project assumes greater significance since it would give New Delhi an advantage in its defence preparedness.

National interests notwithstanding, the project poses a great challenge to the 910 sq km island, which is also a UNESCO Biosphere Reserve with immense biodiversity value. Home to 245 species of scleractinian corals, endangered leatherback turtles, Nicobar megapode, macaque, saltwater crocodiles, and a host of species of birds, the GNI is inhabited by Shompen and Nicobarese tribes too. Not surprisingly, the Expert Appraisal Committee which recommended Stage-I clearance also observed with some trepidation in its report: "EAC also noted that there are several other endemic flora and fauna and impact of the project on these species is mostly unknown. … (and) the scale of impacts the proposed project may have both on flora and fauna of GNI and native populations."

While the island has witnessed the impact of anthropogenic pressure and climate change in recent decades, massive development would require the exploitation of ground and surface water as well as other natural resources to cater to the demands of a township and other installations in the future. The project also necessitates the felling of over eight lakh trees—though in phases as suggested by the EAC—to catastrophic effect. The clamour surrounding the environmental impact assessment report and de-notification of parts of two protected areas of GNI last year has not helped assuage the concerns. Needless to say, the Centre will have to find a fine, fine balance.

SET CONTROVERSIES ASIDE, SHOW HAS BEGUN

The 22nd iteration of the world's biggest sporting event—the FIFA men's World Cup—began in Qatar on Sunday. It is one of the most beloved sporting carnivals on the planet because of its reach, popularity, feel-good stories and, most importantly, the competition. The UEFA Champions League may have eclipsed the World Cup in terms of prestige, but the latter's romance will remain intact. That romance, though, faces one of its biggest tests over the next month.

This World Cup has come to represent everything that's wrong with the global sport right now. Nation-states using sport to launder their image is an allegation as old as time, and its handiwork can be found all over this event. You have the deaths of migrant workers while working on World Cup-related projects, allegations of corruption while bidding, and the country's questionable rights for minorities—homosexuality is illegal in Qatar. On Monday, they went a step further in preventing captains from coming out with something as non-controversial as 'OneLove' armbands, a gesture designed to stand with the LGBT+ community (wearing it means a straight yellow, among other sanctions). One can see why this may be one of the most controversial World Cups. To get the focus back on the tournament, football's governing body FIFA, in a communiqué sent to all participating teams, asked everyone to stick to football.

Having said that, the Qatar World Cup is likely to be one of the most wide open World Cups with no clear favourites. That's because most of the big European teams are at the start of a new growth curve, while the two South American heavyweights come with a stacked team. Each of the Big Four, Lionel Messi, Neymar, Kylian Mbappe and Cristiano Ronaldo, is blessed with individual brilliance to shine in this World Cup. Crucially, their four teams have the necessary ensemble to lift the most hallowed trophies at the Lusail Stadium on December 18. For Messi, this could be when he holds the trophy that's eluded his illustrious career. Maybe England can take it home after 56 years. Sports have that uncanny ability to unite, erase sour memories and act as a soothing balm to all that is ugly. Let's sit back and enjoy the beauty of the sport for now.

QUICK TAKE

NEW AGE, NEW COURSES

Maharashtra will not permit new colleges that offer only conventional courses. The state government intends higher education to be demand-driven and job-oriented. The point is valid. Whether vocational or knowledge-based, undergraduate courses should cater to the new generation and new needs of industry and society. Cloud engineering gives a contemporary edge to fundamental education just as training bed assistants in hospitals reinvents the vocational. Between wine tasting and path-lab testing, new vocations cater to various jobs, from the refined to the routine. Forensic sciences, fashion tech, urban design, sports management or animal psychology are popular today, reflecting changing societal aspirations.

This generation is non-judgmental, unlike the one that spawned it. They are inclusive, believe in the bigger cause than the smaller one that got their parents' attention

HEAR, HEAR: GENERATION ALPHA IS HERE

HARISH BIJOOR

Last week, the world hit a landmark number of eight billion people alive on the planet. November 15 was the designated day (it baffles me how it is done, counted and accounted for) when the eight billionth baby was to be born in an eight billion-alive world. And it happened. Apparently.

Today, the world hosts eight billion humans across a whole set of continents. Divided by geography but united by life. Geography is biology. This landmark (more appropriately, a 'peoplemark') event has us scurrying around to understand the complexity of so many living humans, their differences and commonalities.

Modern-day sociologists, marketers, and practitioners of the art, science and philosophy of people-watching have found a solution to segment humans into common groups for easy understanding. The solution is in labelling generations into common clusters.

Every 15 years (and maybe lesser time bands in the future) is the time to name a whole new generation of people and give them a dog tag. We are familiar with the old descriptive generations of the Baby Boomers (1946–64), Gen X (1965–1980) and the Millennials/Gen Y (1981–96), and so are we familiar with the labels that spoke of Gen X, Y and Z. What happens then when the last alphabet has been done with? Time to go to the next cohort of generation names. And here it is. Generation Alpha (2010–25) is here. And most of them are born already and live in your home and mine. If not these, our neighbour's.

Gen Alpha is an exciting start to a whole new cohort of people who can be classified more or less similarly by what fashions them, what motivates them and, more importantly, what drives them to do what they do and will do.

This is a cohort that promises to be the largest-ever generation over the next two years. One out of seven people you will meet out there is a Gen Alpha creature. In many ways, the Gen Alpha kid is the offspring of a Millennial, but the Millennial is yesterday's being. We have understood them to death and boredom. Our every offering, whether it is governmental, social, economic, political or religious, has been tailor-made to them. Time to un-make it all, then. Time to sit up and take notice of Alpha 'Abhinav' and Alpha 'Alpana' alike.

In terms of the distribution of this new generation in our midst, three countries lead in sheer numbers—India, China, and Indonesia will see their biggest-ever clusters. And these three countries will therefore see the biggest changes that are required to be planned for.

The beginning of it all, therefore, lies in a common understanding of this new cohort. Governments and businesses need to leverage their future and present offerings to cater to this large swathe of the modern emerging society. This Gen Alpha grows by night. Who are they, then? And what distinguishes them?

My research in this space over the last two years tells me this is a rather uniquely sensitised generation. It is a generation that has witnessed upheaval in terms of the biggest-ever health scare—Covid. This is a Covid-cohort for sure.

It is equally a generation that is shaped by social media. A generation that has morphed from a multi-device-centric life to a single-device-centric existence. Everything now converges into the smartphone. Remember, the phone needs to be smarter than you. In many ways, it will define how smart you will be. The smartphone is, therefore, the purveyor of all information that is necessary, and you need not replicate what it can do.

The Alpha Generation is a cohort that is "with-it". Now, what does that mean? They learn young, they are agile, they are sensitive, and they are sensitised by technology more than anything else as an influencer in their lives. 5G, Siri, Artificial Intelligence and airpods are all devices and accoutrements to simple living that are taken for granted. Smartphones, tablets, video games, electric vehicles and smart speakers are considered to be a part of basic existence. And "you be you" is the mantra around.

This generation is quite non-judgmental, unlike the one that spawned it. This is an inclusive lot, a lot that believes in the bigger cause than the smaller one that got the attention of their parents.

Is it all hunky dory ahead, then? Or are there concern markers I scent in my research exercise that covers 11,840 beings of Gen Alpha? There are many, really. Let me mention just the top three.

One is that the mind is being trained and used differently altogether. Equally, the body is being used differently. Hard work with the hand and foot in use is being replaced by hard work of the mind kind. Replacing hard work with smart work is fine, but who will do all the hard work around? Is there going to be a shortage of willing and capable resources in this stream?

The second is that the accent is on the general as opposed to the specific. There is a focus on a broad swathe of things as opposed to a few.

This is great, but does it mean that we are going to have a whole generation of generalists with very few specialists? What does it mean for the sciences? What does it mean for every empirical science and its pursuit?

The third is a bigger concern for me. Childhood is dead or dying faster than ever before. The kid of today is growing up faster than ever before. The kid in the house is a device expert of every kind. If you have a problem with a new smartphone, the go-to person is the youngest kid in the house.

Today, kids are growing up faster than ever before. "Up-ageing" is here. The Alpha Generation is a childhood killer. There is less play and more fun. There is less of the outdoor and more of the indoor. There is less of the real and more of the virtual.

This Alpha kid has fewer physical friends and more virtual ones. If you check his virtual presence, he has 812 friends on Facebook and just one in his class. He follows many but follows nothing at all as well. Childhood is dead. Nine is the new 15, and 15 is the new 25.

Points to ponder over. Points to worry about.

RAHUL GANDHI, SAVARKAR, AND THE CLEMENCY QUESTION

C P SURENDRAN

Poet, novelist, and screenplay writer. His latest novel is One Love and the Many Lives of Osip B

Last week, in Bombay, Rahul Gandhi flashed a clemency letter V D Savarkar wrote to the British from the Andaman cellular jail. Although Rahul, unlike the other five-star leaders of this country, has evolved to find a way to break out, in this instance, he seemed to have regressed into points system politics. It has only served to alienate the fluid Hindu vote (for which the fight is on) and to sow confusion among political partners like the Shiv Sena, a party already finding it hard to hold on to its nativist politics.

In any case, Rahul is only partially right about his chosen target of ridicule. This note is about that before we return to Rahul Gandhi.

From mid-1911 to 1924, V D Savarkar was in Andaman cellular jail for anti-British activities. Out of touch with an India he helped to boil over, he was suddenly nowhere in the picture. And no one seemed to care either. He consulted, among others, Mahatma Gandhi, with whom he had a love-hate and then hate-hate relationship (as did Subhas Chandra Bose, and Dr B R Ambedkar); not because Gandhi's vision for India, which was essentially 'the notion of some infinitely gentle, infinitely suffering thing' as Eliot said in another context, but, as a visionary leader, Gandhi 'knew' of the end before he began. And only he knew.

You could not win with Gandhi because, in his mind, he had decided he had died long ago, long before Godse shot him, and had come back as a soul to occupy his body for a historical purpose. So he could give up his body again and again, which in a way Rahul Gandhi is discovering: he is putting the body back into politics. Gandhi's righteousness could provoke resentment in any exceptionally gifted compatriot. V D Savarkar was one.

Even before Gandhi arrived in India in 1915 from South Africa, Savarkar was already living the anti-colonial war. Before the first decade of the last century had ended, he had researched and written the first Indian account of the Mutiny of 1857 (The First War of Independence).

He saw the event not as the limited revolt of the sepoys on account of the cartridges greased by the fat of cows and pigs as the British would have it, but also as a historic uprising that had its origin in social and political causes. We will only observe in passing that the two members of the animal kingdom, then as now, continue to define Indian politics.

Savarkar's pioneering book, first written in Marathi, then assumed many furtive guises before it could be printed in English, which got him into trouble, along with his other activities, all of which were nothing if not patriotic.

In London, where he went to study the law with the support of a scholarship at the instance of Lokmanya Tilak, he fomented discussions and conspiracies against the British.

Gandhi could give up his body again and again, which in a way Rahul Gandhi is discovering: he is putting the body back into politics. Gandhi's righteousness could provoke resentment in any exceptionally gifted compatriot. V D Savarkar was one

He actively helped Madan Lal Dhingra to assassinate W H Wylie, who, for long in India, represented British interests in many important capacities before returning to England. The British held that Savarkar supplied the gun used in the killing to Dhingra. They also thought Savarkar, back home, had a hand in the killing of the Nashik collector, A M T Jackson, shot on the eve of his departure to Bombay on a promotion.

The British arrested him and imported him to India. Midway, Savarkar jumped ship and swam to the French shores. He was caught and then sent to India after a series of Anglo-French pleasantries. These are all acts of a brave patriot, not of a coward.

In Andaman, it was possible for Savarkar to feel this was the end. Desperate, Savarkar wrote many clemency petitions, and finally, the British moved him to the less hostile Ratnagiri jail in 1921.

It is at this exilic stage in his career, to an extent passively engineered by the seemingly fair Indian leadership, and pregnant Gandhian silences which only Nehru could telepathically access, Savarkar shifted his emphasis from a kind of nationalist terrorist to an unabashedly militant exponent of Hindutva.

There was also the British condition for release that Savarkar should eschew politics. This, too, would have encouraged him to wear the cloak of religion to wield the dagger of anti-colonial politics. Early in January 1924, he was released from jail but was confined to Ratnagiri district. In real earnest, his Hindu Sangathan activities began around this time. Savarkar was free to move about in India only after 1937.

By this time, the freedom movement had changed the complexion completely. And Savarkar had become just another 'also ran'. He had too much vigour and energy to allow himself to be completely crushed by the Gandhi-Nehru juggernaut.

Later, in the second of the 1940s, in the Kapur Commission hearings, which ended in Godse's hanging, he was implicated as a conspirator in the Gandhi assassination but was acquitted.

If you listened to Godse's statement in court (available on YouTube), he makes it clear that the plan and execution were his alone, despite the meetings he did have with Savarkar.

Had the Congress party leadership been more inclusive at the time, the Hindu question Savarkar came to champion would not have devolved to reach the present stage. In the decades since his death in 1966, India has moved closer to the dreams of Savarkar.

But who induced that dangerous sleep in him? Perhaps it is too late for such discussions. But to hold up a clemency letter of a man in dire straits and to deny him his due is the stuff of brownies.

A lesson on love

Apropos of When love is big enough to forgive a lapse (Nov 21). After reading this column, I feel light-hearted. There is variety in narration and choice of subject. I agree with the point that it is an honourable choice for partners to forgive. However, it is also true that these days, many marriages are broken owing to lack of love and forgiveness.

The Goa government should Scrap peon, orderly systems (Nov 21) that still prevail for the comfort of bureaucrats. This colonial system was in vogue for several decades but has been gradually discontinued. There is no justification for continuing with this practice at the expense of the exchequer for obvious reasons.

Respect all languages

Apropos of Tilling the political Tamil land with water from Kashi's Ganga (Nov 21). In the Nehru-Gandhi era, we never heard of praise for any particular language. Nehru and Gandhi were careful to not use language, religion and ethnicity for political gains. Statesmen need to avoid any rhetoric on these three. It is playing with fire. I am a Tamil but consider language only a medium and appreciate other languages too.

South-North unity

Apropos of Tilling the political Tamil land with water from Kashi's Ganga (Nov 21). I warmly thank TNIE for publishing an editorial on this at a time when divisive forces are active in India. This initiative needs to be encouraged as it will help to bring about national integration. The South-North divide was British mischief. The history of India must be rewritten!

Tharoor in Kerala

Apropos of Tharoor emerges central figure in state Cong (Nov 21). Tharoor is a popular leader. The "unannounced ban" on Tharoor points to the possibility of some leaders being uncomfortable with him. The Congress is going through difficult times and can ill afford such internal bickering as this will weaken their prospects of coming back to power. The high command should intervene lest this situation weakens the party further.

'India plans to be EV hub, aims to cut cost by 40%'

Heavy Industries Minister Mahendra Nath says the govt will electrify its fleet of vehicles, public transport

It is no more a question whether India would meet its commitments to check greenhouse emissions by 2030. In its pledges, known as Nationally Determined Contributions (NDC), India has said it will reduce the emissions intensity of its Gross Domestic Product (GDP) by 45% by 2030. This is a measure of the amount of greenhouse gas emitted per unit of economic activity. The question, therefore, is how the government plans to meet its targets.

In an interview with Amit Mukherjee, Minister of Heavy Industries Mahendra Nath Pandey says the government has set a target to electrify its own fleet of vehicles to reduce emissions. It is also formulating and implementing electrifying schemes for public transportation. Excerpts:

Verbatim

How are you and your ministry contributing towards transitions that India is going through?

One of the world's current disruptive storms triggering a transition is climate change, which has underscored the need to shift towards a sustainable, clean emission-free environment. While the government has set a target to electrify its own fleet to reduce emissions, it is also formulating and implementing electrifying schemes for the public transportation process. Under our ministry's Faster Adoption and Manufacturing of Hybrid and Electric Vehicles (FAME)-II scheme -- a flagship programme for electric vehicle (EV) adoption – besides other class of EV, we are deploying electric buses across cities to switch to exhaust-free transportation and at the same time decongest the roads with mass transit facilities.

Are subsidies involved in various government initiatives?

With a budgetary allocation of Rs 10,000 crore (US$ 1.3 billion) under FAME-II, we are extending the green subsidy to 1 million e-two-wheelers, 0.5 million to e-three-wheelers, 55,000 e-passenger vehicles and 7,000 e-buses. As of November 7, over 6.1 lakh vehicles have been provided subsidy for e-2-wheelers. While under FAME-II, we are already working on EV adoptions in 34 states and one UT, we are now turning our focus on Jammu and Kashmir with a focus on charging infrastructure and public transport.

What are the specific targets your ministry has fixed to make electric mobility more popular?

The government has set targets for EV sales penetration with 30% of private cars, 70% of commercial cars, 40% of buses and 80% of two and 3 wheelers by 2030 for a cleaner future. We are looking at this as a huge opportunity to become an EV hub. We are already supporting the e-mobility ecosystem by creating a supportive manufacturing environment. The aim is to bring the cost of EVs down by almost 40% through 'Make in India' mission by reducing imports. Through flagship schemes like FAME II, Advanced Chemistry Cell (ACC) programme and Production Linked Incentive (PLI) schemes for automobile and auto components, we are accelerating migration to e-mobility by aiming to reduce EV costs.

How do these schemes contribute to Atmanirbhar Bharat?

Our focus is totally on Atmanirbhar. Apart from the large-scale push for manufacturing by us under FAME-II, the most significant step has been the assembly, installation and maintenance set-up of 76-mm guns for the Indian Navy. BHEL, our country's top government-owned energy production equipment maker, has already supplied 45 guns to the Navy. Besides, we are pro BHEL, which has recently turned into a profit-making entity in the second quarter of 2022-23. It has made forays into high-speed mobility and is providing propulsion technology equipment for Vande Bharat trains. Besides, it is producing indigenously developed air-cooled separators, heavy water reactors for nuclear plants, heavy duty gas generators for the power sector and setting up solar power plants.

> Our focus is totally on Atmanirbhar. Apart from the large-scale push for manufacturing the most significant step has been the assembly, installation and maintenance
> Mahendra Nath, Minister of Heavy

Infrastructure is a big issue for e-mobility. How do you propose to resolve it?

We are working to make the charging infrastructure robust to support EV growth. There are over 1,800 stations currently, which we plan to increase in view of a surge in EV sales. Besides imported charges, BHEL has developed normal chargers for EVs. We are working closely with the Indian Automotive Research Institute (IARI), a government research wing, for development of "express" chargers. In fact, the testing of these is at the final stage. We are in talks with more than 22,000 fuel stations for space sharing where the EV chargers would be deployed.

The government is putting a lot of emphasis on increasing energy output and achieving adequate self-reliance levels...

In view of situations arising out of the Russia-Ukraine conflict, especially in the energy sector that is witnessing turbulence worldwide, the need to depend on thermal power plants has been revived and the government is taking a long-term view. While we continue to work on renewables and cleaner energy sources like solar and wind, the alternative use of energy resources like coal through diversification is the new focus. After all, we want to be ahead and secure ourselves in terms of India's energy needs. While India is endowed with 344 billion tonnes (BT) of coal resources, producing syngas through surface coal gasification (SCG) for energy needs appears to be a safe, viable option.

PM to distribute offer letters to 71k recruits

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

UNDER the Rozgar Mela, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday will distribute about 71,000 appointment letters to newly inducted recruits. On the occasion,PM Modi also launched Karmayogi Prarambh module, an online orientation course for all new appointees. The PM will also address the appointees through the video conferencing, Prime Minister Office said in a statement on Monday.

The Rozgar Mela is a step towards fulfillment of the commitment of the PM to accord highest priority to employment generation. The Rozgar Mela is expected to act as a catalyst in further employment generation and provide meaningful opportunities to the youth for their empowerment and participation in national development directly.

Earlier in October, appointment letters were handed over to 75,000 newly inducted appointees under Rozgar Mela. The physical copies of the appointment letters to the new appointees will be handed over at 45 locations across the country (except Gujarat and Himachal Pradesh). In addition to the categories of posts filled earlier, posts of teachers, lecturers, nurses, nursing officers, doctors, pharmacists, Radiographers and other technical and paramedical posts are also being filled. A significant number of posts are being filled by the Ministry of Home Affairs in various Central Armed Police Forces (CAPFs).

"Prime Minister will also launch the Karmayogi Prarambh module - an online orientation course for all new appointees in various government departments. It will include code of conduct for government servants, workplace ethics and integrity, human resource policies and other benefits and allowances that will help them to get acclimatized to the policies and transition smoothly into the new roles," said the statement.

They will also get an opportunity to explore other courses on igotkarmayogi.gov.in platform to enhance their knowledge, skills and competencies, it also added. In June, the PM asked various government departments and ministries to initiate the recruitment of 10 lakh people on a 'mission mode' in the next year and a half.

Unease in Cong as Tharoor left out of Gujarat poll push

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

EVEN as senior Congress leader Shashi Tharoor is trying to keep his fortunes afloat in his home turf Kerala, his party colleagues say that the top leadership's cold shouldering made the MP shift his focus to the southern state.

The exclusion of Tharoor from the star campaigner list of Gujarat and Himachal Pradesh hasn't gone down well with the MP and several other leaders in the party. After being left out of the first list of Congress' star campaigners for the upcoming Gujarat Assembly elections, Tharoor's name was missing from the second list of star campaigners as well, which was announced on Saturday.

A senior Congress leader and a Lok Sabha MP close to Tharoor, told this newspaper on the condition of anonymity, that the Thiruvananthapuram MP is unhappy with the developments and guarded in his response. He feels that he needs to be treated with dignity and respect.He said that the party cannot shun the leaders who participated in the elections in a democratic way. "Instead of being accommodative and inclusive, if the party is trying to corner Tharoor, it won't be good. By doing this, the leadership is weakening the party. You cannot push people who participated in a democratic process to the brink. We all are watching," he said.

At least four senior Congress leaders echoed his view. However, AICC general secretary Tariq Anwar told this newspaper that it's the Congress president's prerogative to decide the star campaigners. "We cannot compel the leadership to include anyone," he said. The purpose of the president poll was to strengthen the party and by sidelining Tharoor, the party is dishonoring the delegates, who voted for him, felt the leader.

"Tharoor had repeatedly said that he would be walking hand-in-hand with Kharge and it should be appreciated. All of us are committed to strengthening the party. Some leaders who are threatened by his growth are behind this move," said another leader, adding that the coterie of the Gandhi family is still calling the shots. On his home turf too, Tharoor is facing hostile leadership. The three-time MP, who began his North Kerala tour on Sunday, has received lukewarm response from several DCCs, though state leadership denied any gag order.

Another Congress Lok Sabha MP, who rooted for Kharge in the presidential race, said that the party should have used Tharoor's popularity, charisma, and oratory skills in the electioneering for Gujarat, which will vote on December 1 and 5.

MYANMAR

Ban on 'free movement' along border

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

INDIA has banned movement of people through Tamu-Moreh point, on the border of Manipur and Myanmar, until February. The move aims to prevent illegal' entry of Myanmar nationals into the country.

"This is the second time since September that this ban has been imposed. The suspension of the 'Free Movement Regime' is important due to the current political situation in Myanmar. Tamu is located in western Sagaing region, which has been a stronghold of anti-establishment forces since the Junta came to power in February 2021," say sources. Tamu was earlier a major trading centre due to its proximity to Moreh. Under the FMR scheme, citizens of both countries were allowed to travel within 25km on both sides of the border. Sources also say that this is one way to control the entry of refugees from Myanmar.

Though the exact numbers are unknown, according to estimates, there are a few thousand refugees from Myanmar who have moved into India.

Monitor probe into Morbi bridge collapse: SC to HC

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

NOTING that Gujarat HC has already taken a suo motu(on its own) of the tragedy and has passed several orders in the Morbi bridge collapse incident that claimed lives of 141 people including 47 children, the Supreme Court on Monday refused to consider a petition seeking court monitored probe into the same.

A bench of Chief Justice DY Chandrachud and Justice Hima Kohli termed the collapse an "enormous tragedy".

It asked the HC to "bear its time and attention" on ensuring an independent investigation into the role and responsibilities of Nagar Palika officials and the agency which was in charge of maintenance and management of the bridge and also of awarding compensation to the kin.

The bench also requested the HC to consider the matter on "periodical basis" and said that the HC undoubtedly will also look into the question of ensuring a regulatory mechanism so that such incidents do not recur. "It's an enormous tragedy. This will require weekly monitoring of what steps have been taken. HC has taken charge and has been passing successive orders. We can flag issues which HC should also consider and focus upon," the CJI remarked. While further turning down a plea for appointment of a commission, the CJI said, "Commission will only put it on back burner. Sometimes it's good for judges to take charge of proceedings. We would have done it ourselves but the HC is looking into it."

"Let the HC formulate a model. Of course we may have to intervene subsequently; we'll have to issue instructions for whole country. But first let's have something coming from the HC," CJI also added.

Plea on discrimination against women

The SC bench, on Monday, led by CJI DY Chandrachud agreed to consider a plea challenging section 64 of the CrPC, 1973 which discriminates against women by treating them as incapable of accepting summons on behalf of the person who has been summoned.

APEX COURT

'Will look into transfer of HC judges'

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

CJI DY Chandrachud on Monday assured the lawyers that the Supreme Court will look into their objections against the proposed transfer of Justice Nikhil Kariel of the Gujarat High Court and Justice A Abhishek Reddy of the Telangana HC to the Patna HC and acting Chief Justice T Raja of the Madras HC to the Rajasthan HC.

The assurance was made by the CJI in a meeting held on Monday between the representatives of the HC Advocates Association, CJI and two other collegium members (Justice SK Kaul and MR Shah).

In a representation addressed to CJI DY Chandrachud by MHAA President G Mohanakrishnan, the association urged the collegium and Government of India to drop the proposal and allow acting Chief Justice of Madras High Court to continue in his present capacity till he attains superannuation. The CJI in the meeting conveyed the associations to not abstain from work.

Youth should get a chance to grow: Thakur

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

UNION Information and Broadcasting Minister Anurag Singh Thakur on Monday inaugurated the Indian Panorama Section at the 53th edition of the International Film Festival of India (IFFI).

The inaugural ceremony introduced the audiences to IFFI's official selection of 25 feature and 20 non-feature films under the category for this year. Thakur felicitated the filmmakers of the opening films, Hadinelentu (Feature) and The Show Must Go On (Non-feature), and also launched a '53-Hour Challenge' for '75 Creative Minds Tomorrow'.

"Creative Minds for Tomorrow is in line with the Prime Minister's vision that the youth should be given an opportunity to learn and grow," Thakur said. The 53-hour challenge by Shorts TV is an opportunity for the 'Creative Minds' to show their creativity in a short time, he added. The competition will require the candidates to produce a short film on their idea of India@100 in the time frame of 53 hours. Congratulating the contest participants chosen from over 1,000 applicants, Thakur said, "You are beginning a new journey in your lives, our masterclasses will only add wings to you, from both national and international minds."

He further said that this is a platform for the 75 youngsters to make networks, hone their talent, learn from the best, and move forward in their careers. Talking about the initiative, the minister said that this journey, led by the vision of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, began last year, to engage, encourage and explore the potential of youth by providing them a platform at IFFI.

"This is the second edition of '75 Creative Minds of Tomorrow' and we have already made a community of 150 strong individuals connected through their shared love for cinema, creativity and culture," he said. Thakur applauded the contribution of winners of last year's challenge in films and OTT shows, and said that these young and talented minds would contribute significantly in future to Indian cinema and film industry, especially during the next 25 years.

The Indian panorama is a flagship component of IFFI, under which the best of contemporary Indian films are selected for promoting cinema. It was introduced in 1978 as part of the IFFI umbrella to promote India's cinematic art and rich culture.

Army issues fast-track tenders to buy body cams, ballistic shields

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

THE Indian Army on Monday issued two requests for proposals (RFP) for fast track procurement of 7,000 body worn cameras (BWC) and 1,612 body shields with harness under emergency procurement.

The BWC is a small, audio/video recording device worn usually on the chest over the uniform to capture real time footage of a live operation. Whereas, the body shield is to protect the soldier and should have ambidextrous design and not weigh more than 21 kgs with a service life of five years. Both are to be procured through fast-track procedure. While the camera systems will be procured under the 'Buy Indian' category, the body shields would be under the 'Buy Indian IDDM'.

The process of the fast-track procedure was started to meet the requirement of the equipment and systems which are urgently required by the forces. The Indian Army had recently issued RFPs for drones, loitering munitions and ballistic helmets.

The emergency procurement has been done under the financial powers given by the Ministry of Defence under which they can clear procurements up to Rs 300cr without any further clearance. There had been three occasions when the Army used the emergency procurement; in 2016, post Uri surgical strike, in 2019, Balakot strike and in 2020, during the standoff with China in Eastern Ladakh. 68 contracts worth Rs 6,000 were executed during this period. The fourth cycle of the EP is underway as told by General MK Pande recently.

For both procurements the prospective bidders have to submit their proposals by December 20.

As per the Ministry of Defence the aim of the fast-track procedure is to ensure expeditious procurement for urgent operational requirements of the Armed Forces such as war, border security and critical situations. Fast track procedures may also be applied for cases where timelines of the normal prescribed procedure in procuring of operationally critical equipment is seen to be adversely impacting the capability and operational preparedness of the Armed Forces.

Bangla refugees pushed into Mizoram

Influx a result of crackdown by Bangladesh Army with help of Arakan Army of Myanmar

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Guwahati

AT least 272 Chin-Kuki people fled to Mizoram's Lawngtlai district from the Chittagong Hill Tracts in Bangladesh in the face of an alleged offensive by the Bangladesh Army against an armed group of the community.

The influx comes at a time when the Mizoram government is grappling with over 30,000 refugees from Myanmar. They had fled their hearths and homes in the aftermath of the coup by the military of the country in February last year.

The Chin-Kuki people and the Mizos belong to the Zo community and they share the same culture and ancestry.

A senior official in Lawngtlai told this newspaper the refugees had entered the district on Sunday evening.

"Altogether 272 people arrived. The locals are providing them with food and necessary items. The state government is looking into the matter," the official said requesting not to be named.

The Bangladesh Refugee Committee in Mizoram said these Bangladeshi nationals had entered Bonduk-bangsora, a village located near the tri-junction of Bangladesh, Myanmar and Mizoram and moved to a nearby village, Simeinasora, on Monday morning.

The refugees are mostly women, children and elderly people

Chin-Kuki people, Mizos share same culture, ancestry

The Chin-Kuki people and the Mizos belong to the Zo community and they share the same culture and ancestry. The Bangladesh Refugee Committee in Mizoram said that these Bangladeshi nationals had entered Bonduk-bangsora, a village located near the tri-junction of Bangladesh, Myanmar and Mizoram and moved to a nearby village, Simeinasora, on Monday morning

Khuma Bawm, a member of the committee, said they wanted to proceed to another village, Parva, but the Border Security Force did not allow them to do so. The refugees are mostly women, children and elderly people.

Bawm said trouble was brewing in the Chittagong Hill Tracts for a long time over the Chin-Kuki community's movement for autonomy, spearheaded by the Bangladesh-based insurgent group Kuki-Chin National Army (KNA), also called Kuki-Chin National Front (KNF). He alleged the Bangladesh Army was taking the help of Myanmar's largest extremist group Arakan Army in the offensive.

"The minority Kuki-Chin community has a population of around 3.5 lakh in the Chittagong Hill Tracts. The KNA is locked in a conflict with the Bangladesh Army. So, the Bangladesh Army secretly aligned with the Arakan Army and launched the offensive. They attacked Kuki-Chin villages, tortured innocent people and raped women and girls," Bawm alleged.

"The Bangladesh Army took the help of Arakan Army as our hilly brothers are good fighters," he claimed.

He also said that in the face of the joint offensive, a lot of others also fled the Chittagong Hill Tracts and were on their way to Mizoram. They are in the jungles and will arrive tomorrow or the day after, he said. "We need to support the refugees. They are in need of food, clothing and shelter. We formed the committee to help the people. Five of us are heading to the village from Aizawl," he added. The KNF in a statement claimed that a secret meeting was held between senior officers of the Arakan Army and Bangladesh Army, DGFI, BGB at Tamra on the Bangladesh-Myanmar border.

"They decided that the KNF should be dispersed from the soil of this country (Bangladesh) through the Arakan Army and the Bangladesh government will pay it 10 million taka," the statement said.

UP man arrested for killing daughter over inter-caste marriage

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE murder of 25-year-old Ayushi Chaudhury, whose body was found stuffed in a trolley bag in the service lane of Yamuna Expressway in Mathura last Friday, has emerged as a case of honour killing. UP Police arrested the parents of the victim in Mathura on Monday. Ayushi, who used to stay in Badarpur in south Delhi, was allegedly killed by her father Nitesh Yadav, police said on Monday.

Mathura SP said that the woman's father allegedly shot her dead in a fit of rage as she had married a man from a different caste. Yadav was also furious over the fact that the victim used to be often out till late night. The police sources claimed that Ayushi's mother and brother knew that she was killed by her father.

The sources claimed that after the recovery of the suitcase, the police began investigating with tracing phones, checking CCTV footage, and also through social media platforms. Even posters of the victim were also put out in Delhi for her search.

Initially, the UP police was clueless about her identity. The breakthrough was made when her mother and brother came forward to identify her. Also, an unidentified caller revealed her identity on Sunday morning. Police sources said that the body of the woman seemed to have a head injury and a wound on shoulder.

The father, who lives in Badarpur in south Delhi, was arrested after the police questioned him when he went to identify the body. Police teams have been deployed to find the weapon used in the murder.

After shooting Ayushi with his licensed gun on November 17, Yadav allegedly kept the body in the house for 12 hours. The body was found wrapped in plastic in a large red suitcase. The suitcase was spotted by labourers, who then called the police.

1-yr jail for BJP MP for halting train in 2009

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Lucknow

BANDA MP, RK Singh Patel, has been convicted and sentenced to a year-long jail term by a Chitrakoot Court in connection with a case of him halting a train and pelting stones on police during a protest under the BSP regime in 2009.

In all, 19 people have been convicted, including Chitrakoot Karvi Municipality chairman Narendra Gupta, former SP MLA Veer Singh Patel, in connection with the case. Of the 19 convicts, 16 have been given a jail term of one year each and the remaining three for a month.

However, the sentence would not affect Patel's Lok Sabha membership as it is of one year. Any member loses his/her membership of the house if sentenced to two or more years of jail term. At the time of the incident, Patel was a Samajwadi Party MP.

The order was delivered by Chitrakoot chief judicial magistrate Sanjay Kumar on Monday.

Cong MLA booked after wife accuses him of rape

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

THREE days before Congress leader Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra enters the tribal-dominated Malwa-Nimar region of Madhya Pradesh, tribal politician and party MLA Umang Singhar is in legal trouble.

Singhar, the 48-year-old former state forest minister and three times MLA from Gandhwani (Dhar), was booked on Sunday for domestic violence, rape, unnatural sex, criminal intimidation and abusive conduct-criminal assault at Naugaon police station of Dhar district on the complaint of his wife. Singhar has denied the allegations and accused her of harassment.

Dhar police superintendent Aditya P Singh said that a case has been lodged, and investigations are under way.

The 38-year-old woman has alleged in the complaint that two months after their marriage, which took place in April 2022, "he started abusive behaviour, often raped me and even forced me to perform unnatural sex." She also alleged that Singhar often threatened to kill her and once even hanged her through the balcony of his house. After he allegedly assaulted her in October, she dialed 100, but the police was returned from the doorstep by Singhar's sister, the FIR mentioned.

The FIR added that she again dialed 100 on November 2, after a similar experience, upon which the cops took her to Naugaon police station, but she found that a matter of assault had already been lodged against her on the complaint of the househelp. She also alleged that Singhar owns benami assets in the name of the househelp's husband.

Singhar has said that he has been framed as he is a tribal. "I had complained to the police on November 2 about being blackmailed by her for Rs 10 crore," he said.

He had also claimed innocence last year, when he was booked by Bhopal Police for abetting suicide of his woman friend, Soniya Bhardwaj.

Modi made Nitish CM for 2024 win: PK

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Patna

POLL strategist Prashant Kishor has accused Prime Minister Narendra Modi of assigning the post of chief minister to JD (U) leader Nitish Kumar as he was apprehensive of not being able to repeat BJP's performance in the 2024 Lok Sabha election without a strong foothold in the state.

"Nitish was reluctant to become the chief minister after his party was relegated to the third position in 2020 Bihar assembly election but BJP insisted for it as it was apprehensive of not repeating its performance in 2024 Lok Sabha election without giving the CM post to him," said Kishor.

"BJP had a chance to make a leader from its own party, instead it gave it to Nitish," he said while addressing a meeting held during his ongoing state-wide 'Jansuraj Yatra' in East Champaran district.

He accused the PM of leaving Bihar in a shadow of backwardness when he had a chance to pull it out from there.

Priest couple set on fire over land dispute in Raj

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

A priest and his wife suffered severe burns on Sunday night in Rajasthan's Rajsamand district, when some assailants set their shop on fire over a temple land dispute.

Navratna Lal (75) and Jamna Devi (60) suffered 80% burns and have been admitted to a local hospital where their condition is said to be critical. Ten suspects have been detained in the case in which the police officials are being accused of negligence. The case has also taken a political turn, with the BJP targeting the government for the deteriorating law and order situation.

Burning a priest alive like this is a reflection of the death of the state government itself. Shameful and disgusting

Satish Poonia, BJP state president

According to the police, the land of the temple, located in front of a petrol pump at Kamli Ghat in Deogarh police station area, has been a disputed site for some time. On Sunday night, 10-12 people entered the shop where the priest's family also lives, and hurled petrol bombs. The couple was having dinner at the time of the incident. As soon as the fire broke out, their clothes caught fire. Mukesh Prajapat, Lal's son, revealed that his parents were badly burnt despite his fforts to douse the fire by pouring water. The accused fled from the spot.

The fire by finally extinguished when other villagers gathered at the spot. The injured couple was rushed to the hospital in an ambulance.

Additional District Superintendent of Police Shivlal Bairwa said that 10 people have been detained in the case.

Mukesh said he had earlier submitted a complaint about the land dispute at Kamli Ghat Chowki but no action was taken.

Attacking the Ashok Gehlot government, BJP state president Satish Poonia tweeted, "Burning a priest alive like this is a reflection of the death of the state government itself. Shameful and disgusting. An FIR should also be registered for missing law and order."

Rift widens in Bengal BJP over separate statehood demand

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

BJP's national vice president Dilip Ghosh refused to endorse the demand within the party for separate statehood comprising districts in north Bengal and south Bengal's backward region, where the BJP made deep inroads in the 2019 Lok Sabha elections. "Our party does not endorse such demand. A few elected representatives are raising demand for separate statehood but our high-command made it clear that the party does not support it," he said.

Ghosh's statement came after BJP MLA in Bankura's Onda Amarnath Sakha demanded a separate state comprising five districts in south Bengal. "The people in Purulia, Bankura, Jhargram, West Midnapore and Birbhum are victims of negligence. I request the people of these districts to raise the demand for separate statehood and strengthen our voice. If our party performs well in the upcoming panchayat polls, demand for separate statehood will be placed in front of Union Home minister Amit Shah," said Sakha while addressing party workers. Earlier, BJP's Bishnupur MP Saumitra Khan raised the similar demand.

Echoing the same, many elected representatives of the BJP in north Bengal demanded separate statehood citing the negligence by the state government issue. The saffron camp's state leadership as well as the high-command never endorsed the demand for separate state.

Remark on Prez: BJP stages walkout

BJP MLAs on Monday staged a walkout from West Bengal Assembly demanding immediate resignation of Minister of State for Correctional Homes Akhil Giri from the cabinet and disqualification from the House for his controversial comments on President Droupadi Murmu. They staged the walkout after Speaker Biman Bandyopadhyay rejected their demand for an adjournment motion to discuss Giri's recent controversial remarks on Murmu.

A TOUCH OF BENGAL AT FIFA WORLD CUP VENUE IN QATAR

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

AS FIFA World Cup fever grips soccer fans across the globe, West Bengal has a vital role to play this time in the 29-day extravaganza.

An electrical component manufacturing company, BMC Electroplast Pvt Ltd, an MSME unit in Thakurpukur in Kolkata's southern fringe, supplied around 3,000 transformers to Qatar. The gadgets will help secure power distribution in stadium and related infrastructure. A company official said nearly 50 per cent of the total voltage and current transformers required for the soccer event was supplied by the company.

Transformers are critical components in the power distribution system and important element in the protection chain. The MSME unit manufactures a wide range of electrical products. "It is not typical transformers for power distribution, which we see along the roadsides. This gadget is placed in the switchgear boards, underground electrical rooms below the stadium, and it controls internal power distribution, consumption and protection. This type of gadget is very important. Our company had to invest more than Rs 70 crore for supplying the gadget for Qatar," said Subodh Kumar Banerjee, founder member and senior director of the company.

3,000 transformers

An electrical component manufacturing company, BMC Electroplast Pvt Ltd, an MSME unit in Thakurpukur in Kolkata's southern fringe, supplied around 3,000 transformers to Qatar. The gadgets will help secure power distribution in stadium and related infrastructure

The Kolkata-based company started visiting Qatar since 2014 when the gulf country was given the responsibility of hosting World Cup 2022. "When I visited Qatar in 2014, there was no infrastructure. It was a desert. We supplied the transformers via Tamco Switchgear (Malaysia), an erstwhile L&T company. Besides, our company was among the list of approved vendors of Malaysia's electric supply authority. Our company is a vendor of Tamco and we have worked with them before," said Banerjee.

The transformers built in Thakurpukur were approved by Qatar Electricity & Water Corporation (QEWC) in-charge of the implementation of an integrated infrastructure for the soccer tournament. Banerjee said getting the transformers approved by the concerned agency in Qatar was not an easy task. "Designing the sample and getting it approved by the Corporation in Qatar was a tedious process. It was because stringent norms of the QEWC. But finally, our product was approved. I had to visit the country on three occasions," he added.

The founder member of the company was supposed to be present at the inaugural event but he could not because of an accident last year causing fracture on his knee.

Insults to Shivaji may have adverse impact on Maha govt, says MLA

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

MAHARASHTRA MLA Sanjay Gaikwad, who belongs to Chief Minister Eknath Shinde's camp, has warned that they may have to rethink about their alliance with the BJP in Maharashtra if the party and Maharashtra governor continue to denigrate Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj through their statements.

Governor Bhagat Singh Koshyari had earlier called Chhatrapati Shivaji as a hero of olden times and Nitin Gadkari as a modern-era hero. BJP's national spokesperson Sudhanshu Trivedi had also said that Shivaji Maharaj had sought Aurangzeb's apology five times, so VD Savarkar's mercy petitions were also part of tactics to get out of jail.

Responding to the statements, Gaikwad said that BJP and its leaders should restrain themselves from making such comments. He said that Shivaji Maharaj never extended an apology to Aurangzeb and did not even bow at the Mughal ruler's palace in Agra. "He never filed mercy petitions like other leaders. BJP leaders and governors should think twice before making any statement about Shivaji Maharaj. Henceforth, we will not tolerate such comments," Deshmukh said.

"We have apprised the senior leadership of BJP about the insult to Shivaji Maharaj. The controversial statements will have an adverse impact on our alliance with the BJP and one day, we may have to rethink about it," he added.

BJP Rajya Sabha MP Udayan Raje Bhosale, who is a descendant of Shivaji Maharaj, said that both Koshyari and BJP national spokesperson Sudhanshu Trivedi, should be removed from their post. "Governor Bhagat Singh Koshyari should be removed immediately. We will not tolerate anything against Shivaji Maharaj," he said.

ERDOGAN THREATENS TO INVADE SYRIA AGAIN

ANKARA

TURKISH President Recep Tayyip Erdogan on Monday threatened to launch a ground operation into Syria after cross-border air strikes on Kurdish positions and deadly fire on Turkey.

"There is no question that this operation be limited to only an aerial operation," Erdogan told reporters on a flight home from Qatar. The Turkish leader has threatened a new military operation into northern Syria since May.

Overnight, Turkey hit dozens of targets in northern Syria as well as northern Iraq, a week after an Istanbul bomb attack killed six people and which Ankara blamed on the Kurdistan Workers' Party (PKK). Kurdish groups and authorities have denied responsibility for the November 13 bombing, which also wounded 81 people. Rocket fire from Syrian territory on Monday killed at least three people, including a child, in Turkey's border town of Karkamis, said interior minister Suleyman Soylu. Soylu vowed a "strong response." AFP

Hosps plunge in chaos after Indonesia quake

Amid bed shortage, emergency workers race to treat injured in any outdoor space possible

CIANJUR

SURROUNDED by chaos, panicked residents still filled the streets and hospitals of a West Javan town on Monday hours after a quake killed at least 162 people and injured hundreds.

Agus Azhari, 19, was with his mother in their family home when the living room was destroyed within seconds by the quake that was centred on West Java's Cianjur, the worst-hit town. Parts of the walls and roof fell to the floor, along with cupboards and other debris that hit his legs and hands."I couldn't see anything. The dust from the debris blocked my sight for a while," Azhari said. He said he had never experienced an earthquake like it before. The Indonesian teen shared a video in which his 56-year-old mother screams, "Lord have mercy! My house!" as their home shook. "I pulled my mother's hand and we ran outside," he said. "I heard people screaming for help from all around me."

The shallow tremor, with a magnitude of 5.6, brought down the roofs and walls of homes built on the town's hilly landscape. Many were made more vulnerable by the use of wood, mud and concrete in their construction. Emergency workers raced to treat victims in any outdoor space possible, with the town's three hospitals overwhelmed and not enough rooms to cope with an injury toll of 700.

At least 25 people were still trapped in the rubble, authorities said. Residents rushed lifeless bodies to Cianjur's Sayang hospital in pickup trucks and on motorbikes. Power outages meant doctors were unable to operate immediately.

People wounded in the earthquake being treated in the yard of a hospital in Cianjur on Monday night | AFP

Some of the injured sat on stretchers or blankets with their heads and limbs bandaged. Elderly women sat in wheelchairs waiting to be treated as crowds of worried bystanders looked on.

At another hospital, Cimacan, victims arrived covered in blood while parents looked for missing children. Several injured elderly women were taken on stretchers into makeshift green tents erected outside the hospital.

People ran to resuscitate victims in the immediate aftermath of the quake, while others fled their homes for safety.

Dozens of aftershocks shook the town for minutes that, for rattled locals, seemed like hours. The province's governor said some of the injured needed their heads and feet stitched back together from wounds sustained by the debris falling around them. Landslides around the town buried bodies, and bulldozers were mobilised to reopen roads. A woman and a baby were pulled alive from the rubble, while others lost their lives nearby. Oman, a 55-year-old who, like most Indonesians goes by one name, was making fried rice in a village near Cianjur when his house started to sway.

"All of a sudden I was crushed beneath it. I could do nothing in the rubble. My wife was outside at the time," he said. His feet, legs and hands were squeezed in the ruins but his son arrived to pull him free, emerging with only a broken leg and a bloodied body.

"I did not know where to go but at least I am alive," Oman said. The search for survivors was set to last well into the night as survivors reckoned with the carnage of lost homes and relatives. "My mother looked at her house and she cried," Azhari said. French President Emmanuel Macron was the first world leader to offer his condolences. "Indonesia was hit this morning by an earthquake of destructive and deadly force. Thoughts for all the victims," he wrote. Agencies

India in talks with UAE, S Arabia for trade in Re

Reserve Bank of India and Ministry of Finance working on framework to permit trade in Indian currency

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

Canara, HDFC get RBI nod to open Vostro account

RBI has given its approval to HDFC Bank and Canara Bank to open special Vostro accounts for trade settlement in Indian currency with Russia. The other three banks which got approval to open Vostro accounts are UCO Bank, Union Bank and IndusInd Bank. Two Russian banks have central bank's permission, which are Sber Bank and VTB

AFTER Russia, India is in talks with the UAE and Saudi Arabia to allow settlement of trade in Indian rupee, according to sources. The Reserve Bank of India and the finance ministry are working on the framework to permit trade in the Indian currency.

"The UAE is a big market for India, so obviously the traders in the country will benefit from this move. Similarly, Saudi Arabia too is a significant trading partner of India. However, the problem lies in the fact that we are a net-importer from both these countries, so the excess rupee management can be an issue," a top government source told this newspaper. According to the commerce ministry data, India's exports to the UAE and Saudi Arabia recorded a drop in October 2022.

"Rupee trade settlement should be independent of currency fluctuation vis-a-vis dollar and it is good to internationalise the rupee. The RBI and finance ministry are working on its framework," the official further stated.

Vostro account maintains holdings of the foreign entity in Indian banks in rupee. So, traders whether importers or exporters can receive or make payment through this account. Meanwhile, as per international news agencies, RBI has given its approval to HDFC Bank and Canara Bank to open special Vostro accounts for trade settlement in Indian currency with Russia. The other three banks which got approval to open Vostro accounts are UCO Bank, Union Bank and IndusInd Bank. Besides this, two Russian banks have central bank's permission, which are Sber Bank and VTB. Both these banks have their branches in India. These two Russian banks are the first foreign lenders having RBI's approval to open special Vostro accounts to trade in rupee.

The RBI in July this year had announced to allow trade settlements between India and other countries in rupee. It issued the notification on July 11, which said, "In order to promote growth of global trade with emphasis on exports from India and to support the increasing interest of global trading community in INR, it has decided to put in place an additional arrangement for invoicing, payment, and settlement of exports/imports in INR."

OUT OF DEBT

Essar concludes $2.05bn transaction of port, power infra assets with AM/NS

Claims to complete the debt repayment of $25 billion

Currently, the Group has revenues of $15 billion and AUM of $8 billion

Essar claims to be debt free, repays ₹2 lakh crore

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

MUMBAI-BASED Essar Group claims that it has become debt-free after completing the debt repayment of $25 billion (₹2,00,000 crore).

This claim by the conglomerate, which once was among India's top business houses, comes as two Group companies – Essar Ports & Terminals Ltd (EPTL) and Essar Power Ltd (EPL) – on Monday announced concluding the $2.05 billion (₹16,500 cr) sale of captive ports and power assets located in Hazira and Paradip to Arcelor Mittal Nippon Steel India Limited (AM/NS).

The sale consisted of infra assets, which include a 270 MW power plant and 25 MPTA port at Hazira in Gujarat and a 12 MPTA port at Paradip, Odisha. "Essar has concluded its asset monetisation programme and completed the debt repayment of $25 billion (Rs 2L crore) effectively making the group debt-free from Indian banks and financial institutions" said Prashant Ruia, Director, Essar Capital.

Essar said it would continue to have a significant presence and substantial operating assets in all its core verticals – energy, metals & mining, infrastructure & logistics and technology & retail. The company claims it currently has revenues of $15 bl (₹1.2 lakh core) and asset under management of $8 billion (₹64,000 crore) within and outside India. It was in late August this year when Essar had announced a $ 2.4 billion (₹19,000 crore) deal to sell its ports business to steel magnate LN Mittal-led Arcelor Mittal Nippon Steel Ltd.

ArcelorMittal, along with Japan-based Nippon Steel, had earlier acquired Essar Steel via a corporate insolvency resolution process by paying ₹42,000 to the lenders of erstwhile Ruias-owned firm. The Ruias had limited options but to sell its assets to pay off hefty loans it was struggling to service. Essar's debt had ballooned from less than ₹28,000 crore in 2009 to about ₹1.38 lakh crore in 2017, as per reports. One of its biggest monetisation efforts includes concluding the sale of Essar Oil assets to the Russian government controlled Rosneft-led consortium for $12.9 billion in early 2018.

L&T onboards more than 3,000 trainee engineers in current financial year

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

ENGINEERING and construction major Larsen & Toubro on Monday said it has hired over 3,000 graduate and postgraduate engineering trainees in current financial year. This is nearly a three-fold rise compared to the last fiscal when they hired 1,067 trainees.

C Jayakumar, executive VP & head, corporate HR of the company, said, "L&T as a company is expanding rapidly and is presently sitting on a record order book. This necessitates keeping ready a steady talent pipeline of trained technical professionals for meeting effectively the current and future business/customer needs."

He added that the management decided to more than double the hiring of fresh engineers compared to the last fiscal. "We went to the market to address our additional business requirement and got an overwhelming response from fresh engineers," Jayakumar said. L&T's consolidated order book was ₹3.72 lakh crore as of September 30, 2022.

The company said the number of female engineers hired has more than quadrupled from 248 in FY22 to 1,009 in FY23. Of the total people hired this fiscal, 30% of fresh engineering trainees are women. Nearly 75% of the engineering trainees are hired from mechanical, civil and electrical streams where women candidates are less. "Currently, women staff comprise 7.6% of the total workforce at L&T. Its initiative, WINSPIRE, continues to promote the trend of increased female participation within the L&T universe," the company said.

Amazon makes offers of voluntary separation to some employees

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

ECOMMERCE giant Amazon, which earlier announced layoffs from Devices and Services team, hints at more role reductions, and that it will be shared with employees early in 2023.

The retail giant has also made a voluntary separation offer to eligible employees in India within the AET (Amazonian Experience & Technology) team. The voluntary separation program (VSP) is available to Amazon L1 to L7 (senior level employees) within the AET organisation. Amazon has given November 30, 2022, as the deadline to participate in the VSP. The VSP includes 22 weeks' base pay, one-week base salary for every six months of service up to a maximum benefit of 20 weeks paid severance and medical insurance coverage for 6 months, among other benefits.

In a note shared to employees on November 18, Amazon CEO Andy Jassy said, "We are in the middle of our annual operating planning review where we look at each of our businesses and make decisions about what we believe we should change."

He added that the economy remains in a challenging spot and that they have hired rapidly the last several years.

Its annual planning process will extend into the new year, and that there will be more role reductions. As per the note, those decisions will be shared with impacted staff and organisations early in 2023.

"We haven't concluded yet how many other roles will be impacted (we know there will be reductions in our stores and PXT (people, experience, and technology) organisations, but each leader will communicate to their respective teams when we have the details nailed down," the CEO added. As per agency reports, Amazon will lay off about 10,000 staff globally. Kamal Karanth, co-founder of staffing firm Xpheno, said it is intriguing to see a VSP with waiver of outstanding obligations on one end, but packed with consequences for non-enrolment on the other. "The near mandatory tone of the scheme shows the enterprise's urgency to resize and reorganise. Not surprising, given the larger market context of enterprises that have triggered the layoffs," he added.

Airtel recharge price hiked in Haryana and Odisha

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

Telecom operator Bharti Airtel on Monday increased the price of its minimum mobile recharge plan by 57% in Haryana and Odisha.

According to the Airtel website, the price of the minimum monthly recharge plan has increased by nearly 57% to ₹155 from ₹99 in both the states. It is believed that the company has started it as a trial plan, and soon it will be rolled out across the country. As per reports, it will soon discontinue its all 28-day calling plans with SMS and data that are priced below ₹155. In ₹155 plan, the users will get unlimited voice calling along with 1GB data and 300 SMSes. Bharti Airtel took a lead in 2021 too when it increased its minimum recharge offer by 25% to ₹99 from ₹79. Later, other telecom operators -- Reliance Jio and Vodafone Idea -- followed suit. Meanwhile, Airtel said it has launched 5G services in Guwahati. As per Rajnish Verma, CEO, Bharti Airtel, Assam and North East Airtel customers can now experience an ultra-fast network and enjoy speeds up to 20-30 times faster than the current 4G speeds.

The company had first announced 5G Plus in October, with initial availability limited to eight cities – Delhi, Mumbai, Chennai, Bengaluru, Hyderabad, Siliguri, Nagpur, and Varanasi. Since then it has expanded the service to Panipat, Gurugram, Pune Lohegaon airport as well as at the Lal Bahadur Shastri International Airport of Varanasi.

INDICES FALL 1% ON GLOBAL CUES, GDP FORECAST

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

DESPITE a significant fall in crude oil prices, India's equity market closed in red on Monday, with benchmarks Sensex and Nifty falling about 1% each. The fall came amid mixed global cues following indications of hawkish stance maintained by the US Federal Reserve over future rate hikes.

Add to it, global financial giant Goldman Sachs' downward revision in its forecast for India's economic growth by 1% for the calendar year 2023 dented sentiment.

At close on Monday's session, the Sensex was down 518.64 points, or 0.84%, at 61,144.84, and the Nifty was down 147.70 points, or 0.81%, at 18,160.

"The sharp decline in crude prices is a huge positive for the domestic economy. However, the market didn't respond favourably due to stronger headwinds from the global market," said Vinod Nair, head of research at Geojit Financial Services. International oil prices hit two-month low on Monday as it fell below $87 per barrel mark. "The prospect of a prolonged tightening cycle by the US Federal Reserve and the Chinese COVID restrictions affected the world market," added Nair. Ajit Mishra, VP - Research, Religare Broking said market participants should see the dip as normal profit taking after the recent surge as he expects the 17950-18050 zone (for Nifty) to act as immediate support for the 50-share index. "While we're seeing a mixed trend across sectors, resilience in the banking space is playing a critical role in capping the damage so far. We recommend continuing with a stock-specific trading approach and maintaining positions on both sides," Mishra added. In the Nifty pack, about 35 stocks closed the Monday session with a cut. Adani Ports, Hindalco, JSW Steel and heavyweights- TCS, HDFC and Reliance Industries fell in the range of 1.5% to 2%.

US Fed stance on rate hike dents mkt

Fall came amid mixed global cues following hawkish stance maintained by US Fed over future rate hikes. Goldman Sachs' downward revision for India's GDP by 1% for calendar year 2023 also dented sentiment.

Jio gets NCLT nod to acquire Reliance Infratel

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

RELIANCE JIO on Monday received approval from the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) for acquisition of Anil Ambani-led Reliance Infratel (RITL), which owns tower and fibre assets of Reliance Communications (RCOM).

Subsequently, Reliance Projects and Property Management Services, a subsidiary of Reliance Jio will have to deposit ₹3,720 crore in a State Bank of India (SBI) escrow account to complete the acquisition. RITL, the holding company for tower and fibre assets of RCOM, has fibre assets of nearly 1.78 lakh route kilometers and 43,540 mobile towers across the country.

In November 2019, Mukesh Ambani-led Jio placed a bid of ₹3,720 crore to acquire assets of the debt-ridden Reliance Communications. On March 4, 2022, the Committee of Creditors approved the resolution plan with a 100% vote. However, the implementation of the resolution plan was delayed because of pendency of the proceedings over distribution of the amount and issuance of 'no dues' certificate.

On November 6, Jio had proposed to deposit ₹3,720 crore in an escrow account to complete the acquisition of RITL. It also moved the tribunal to speed up the acquisition of Reliance Infratel as the delay in acquisition of RITL assets will deteriorate the value of assets. The company sought that it should be allowed to "deposit the total resolution amount in an account with SBI" and direct the parties involved, "that upon such deposit, the resolution plan shall stand implemented and the applicant shall acquire ownership and control of RITL in terms of the resolution plan".

It is believed that the funds will be distributed among the lenders. State Bank of India and banks including Doha Bank, Standard Chartered Bank, and Emirates Bank are engaged in a legal battle over the distribution of funds. The matter is pending before the apex court.

Meta introduces new features to make Facebook, Instagram safer for teens

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

TO protect young users from online harm, Meta on Monday said it will introduce new features on its social media platforms Facebook and Instagram.

It is testing removing the message button on teens' Instagram accounts when they are viewed by suspicious adults.

Meta is also testing ways to protect teens from messaging suspicious adults that they are not connected to. Meta said a suspicious account is one that belongs to an adult that may have recently been blocked or reported by a young person.

Meta has also introduced new privacy defaults for teens on Facebook. Some of the privacy settings include people who can see teens' friends list, who can see posts that they are tagged in on their profile and who is allowed to comment on their public posts. "We're working with the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children (NCMEC) to build a global platform for teens who are worried intimate images they created might be shared on public online platforms without their consent," Meta said. It is also developing new tools and education to stop the spread of self-generated intimate images online. Teens can also let Facebook and Instagram know if something makes them feel uncomfortable while using its apps.

It is promoting teens to report accounts after they block someone, and sending them safety notices with information on how to navigate inappropriate messages from adults.

Global payment vendor Volante to ramp up R&D operations in Chennai

VAITHEESWARAN B @ Chennai

GLOBAL financial technology provider Volante Technologies plans to ramp up its research and development (R&D) operations in Chennai.

The New Jersey headquartered fintech, founded by members of the Indian diaspora, counts Goldman Sachs and other top eight US banks as its customers for bank-to-bank payment interface. It provides payment solutions for small banks and fintechs as well.

Volante's R&D in the city focuses on improving low code-no code, cloud-based platforms in a cost-efficient manner. With the adoption of ISO 20022 standardisation for international payments, the company sees a huge potential for payment services technology and real-time payment. It also bets big on the digitalization of legacy systems in the Western banks.

The R & D team works on a tech stack of no sequence databases, streaming, containers. It also focuses on Web3-based payment solutions and has partnered with crypto vendors and blockchain players. It is also working with some of the Central Bank Digital Currencies.

Payment solutions provided by Volante

The New Jersey headquartered fintech, founded by members of the Indian diaspora, counts Goldman Sachs and other top eight US banks as its customers for bank-to-bank payment interface. It provides payment solutions for small banks and fintechs as well

The company has over 75% or 900 of its workforce in India, spread across Chennai, Pune and Hyderabad and plans to add more headcount in research in the coming days.

With the industry moving towards real-time payments and ISO standardisation, we're well positioned to enable the banks to move towards modernisation, Chief Quality Officer and Head of India Operations Girisha Neerje told this newspaper. Backed by Citi Ventures, part of Citi Group, Wells Fargo, Visa among others, it saw a huge uptick in demand since the pandemic. Volante grew about 50-60% each year since 2019 as the pandemic accelerated instant payment demand, Vijay Oddiraju, CEO of Volante Technologies, told this newspaper. "The pandemic didn't affect us, a lot of banks looked at modernising much faster during the pandemic. The pandemic helped the banks to think of modern technology and offerings. Instant payment has become very popular," he added.

FRANCE, DENMARK SEEK HAPPY START

Holders get their campaign underway while Eriksen's feel-good story gathers momentum. A brief look at the other three games on Tuesday...

ERIKSEN FACTOR

Last time Christian Eriksen was wearing a Danish shirt in a big event, he was stricken, lying on the ground, fighting for life. On Tuesday, he continues his remarkable recovery since that day in Copenhagen. After being one of Manchester United's main men in the midfield, he will look to inspire his country.

DUAL-NATIONALITY SYSTEM

Tunisia's recipe for success is a well-trodden open. They actively went after players with dual nationality and that has given them relative success. The likes of Ben Slimane and Hannibal Mejbri has added the necessary addition of stardust. Recent victories have come over Chile and Japan. Expect a battle of attrition, though.

Denmark vs Tunisia

Poland's Robert Lewandowski (c) takes part in a training session at the Al Kharaititat SC Training Site in Doha on Monday | AFP

LEWANDOWSKI, AN OUTLIER

When Poland take to the field, Robert Lewandowski's expertise as an ace No. 9 is a remainder for what the goal-scoring centre-forward looks like. He doesn't drop deep and sticks to doing most of his work in the opposition third. His combination with Piotr Zielinski — Poland's De Bruyn — could be the key that unlocks Mexico.

ALL EYES ON LOZANO

The nearly team of the World Cup have a couple of gun players, none more so than the Napoli attacker who loves to dribble and take on his defenders. His time with El Tri is usually miss and hit but he's high on confidence after a great start to the current season with Napoli.

Mexico vs Poland

FRANCE'S CHAOTIC BUILD-UP

The defending champions have lost half the side to injury in the build up, so it will be interesting to see in what frame of mind they are in. With no Karim Benzema as well, Olivier Giroud may probably start with Kylian Mbappe. In theory, it's a change that could suit the latter as he likes playing with Giroud.

BUNCH OF TRIERS

This match, in all likelihood, will be a repeat of what happened in 2018 (France nicked it 2-1). Australia had men behind the ball, defended in numbers and looked to be compact. They won't do much in terms of possession but they will be hard to beat. Against a depleted side, they could well hope for a surprising result.

MATCH POINT

Argentina begin their campaign against Asian powerhouse Saudi Arabia. A look...

FINAL FRONTIER

The vibe is unmistakable. After that Copa America win last year, there is no tension, the pressure has been lifted. You can feel it in the way they play. It's also evident in their performances, they haven't lost in a long time. One almost gets the feeling that 36 years of Argentine hurt is about to end.

WHAT HAS CHANGED

Apart from the vibe and the tension, what has changed is the way this team plays. All over the pitch, the entire style of play is designed to get the ball to Lionel Messi quicker and unlocking his potential in areas close to the opponent third. They also have a forward, Lautaro Martinez, who is a very clinical finisher.

LO CELSO'S ABSENCE

Albiceleste are a well-oiled machine but do keep an eye out on how they plan to replace midfielder Giovani Lo-Celso, who picked up an injury. He was an important cog in their wheel so his absence will force a rejig. How coach Lionel Scaloni does that could play a big role in how they do this World Cup.

WHERE ARE SAUDI'S GOALS

The side did very well to reach this far but in matches this year, another weakness has emerged. Where are the goals going to come from? They have scored six in 12 matches in 2022. They will place men behind the ball and look to frustrate Argentina. Will the afternoon heat (the match begins at 1.00 PM Qatar time) be an advantage?

Carvajal misses practice with flu

DOHA: Defender Dani Carvajal has flu and didn't practice on Monday, two days before Spain's opening match at the World Cup. The Spanish soccer federation didn't give more detail about the condition of the right back. His absence comes as regular starting striker Alvaro Morata returned to practice after his own bout with flu. Central defender Hugo Guillamon, nursing a knee issue, trained separately and was unlikely to be available for Wednesday's opening match.

TAKE A BOW AND A KNEE

Symbolic gestures take centrestage on a day England trounce Iran 6-2

Express GOAL
SIDDHANTH ANEY @ DOHA

IT took England about as long to get on the scoresheet in their opener against Iran as it did for their first press conference of the tournament to warm-up. Once they did, the gap between Asia and the rest of the world, in terms of football or anything else, was plain to see. No longer a team of upstarts, Gareth Southgate's side carry the weight of the kingdom's colonial legacy and are products of it. Not many would have predicted an eight-goal opening encounter. But, just as Qatar were outmatched in every respect by Ecuador on Sunday, so too were Iran. Yet, in so many ways, the game reiterated the tired cliche that is FIFA's plat-du-jour "Football Unites the World". It does, until it doesn't.

Football aside, politics was as much on the menu as anything else. Much as FIFA might claim sport exists on a plane all by itself, real life tends to disagree. With an almost fully-fit squad at his disposal, Southgate sat at the main media centre at Qatar's national convention centre alongside Harry Kane and tried to make the best go of it. When asked about taking a knee — to protest systemic racism — the former international was unequivocal. No matter what the Premier League and its clubs might decide, this England team believes that the World Cup is a stage like no other and that making the point at every opportunity still carries weight. On their opening night, as they have on several occasions since he has taken over as head coach, the England of today demonstrated that playing together, and protesting together, is not just for the optics. That this team and this country belongs as much to Jack Grealish as it does to Bukayo Saka, Jude Bellingham, Raheem Sterling and anyone else who might have the privilege of wearing the shirt. And, for at least as long as they are on the pitch, that point will not be lost. And it makes even the staunchest critic of British imperialism question the idea of, "anyone but England."

On the other side of the pitch, the Iranians chose to make their own point, in their own manner. In stark contrast to the Ecuadorians the day before, the normally passionate Team Melli stood silent, and motionless, as the nation's national anthem played out on the stadium's PA system. In a world of movement and rhythm, the stoic silence said as much as it did not. The people of Iran, much like normal, working people around the world, are struggling to find utterance. Sometimes keeping quiet is the only way to breathe, they seemed to say on Monday at the Khalifa stadium in Doha. From a footballing perspective, the expression of being alive was stifled, perhaps reflecting how Carlos Queiroz's side feel on the inside. Usually poised, skilled, disciplined and physical, Iran looked the opposite of England. When a reporter brought up concerns about the protests in Iran at the England press conference, Southgate chose to deflect. But in his deflection was also an acknowledgment of the rock and the very hard place Iran's players find themselves in. Results of football games don't always reflect reality. Today's silence, and scoreline, did both.

The group, of course, offers its own set of dynamics. England issued the warning. Wales will seek to follow later, after we go to print. The US, so far on the other end of the political spectrum, find themselves in a unique situation: the outsiders. Unlike their women compatriots the US men's national team, when it does make it this far, doesn't really belong. On the pitch they will seek, against Wales and later on in the tournament, to change that perspective. How much success they have will boil down to politics as much as footballing acumen. In this group, as in any other, they might find sympathy, but little support. The game against Iran on November 29 will be an expression of this fact. Don't bet on it, but expect the Melli to be singing their hearts out that night, as much in support of the people they represent as their silence did tonight.

Which brings us back to England. Southgate's side have announced their intent, and their credentials, as challengers. Whether its coming home or not might be a different debate, but football has been singing about the World Cup going to England since 1966. If a nation as small as Qatar, in the middle of the desert and with no footballing legacy to speak of, can host an event of this magnitude, then perhaps this England side is perfectly poised to change the tune from hopeful to triumphant. And it could be fun to watch.

CONTROVERSIAL CALL

FIFA bans 'OneLove' armband

FIFA again caused a controversy on Monday as they prevented captains of seven European nations from wearing the 'OneLove' armband. Here's a look at the armband, the gesture behind it and FIFA's move to ban them.

What's the 'OneLove' armband?

It's a band that captains typically have worn to show their solidarity with the LGBTQ+ community. Before the tournament, seven teams from Europe got together and decided that captains would wear these bands to show their support to the host nation's LGBTQ+ community (homosexuality is illegal in Qatar). It's rainbow themed and captains have worn it in the past as a show of support. The seven nations were prepared to defy orders as long as the sanctions were limited to hefty fines.

What happened on Monday?

FIFA, who had been asked by the teams a few months ago itself, replied by threatening the teams that such an act would invite sporting sanctions including the prospect of captains picking up a yellow card. The world body, in return, said all teams could wear 'No Discrimination' armbands.

> FIFA has been very clear that it will impose sporting sanctions if our captains wear the armbands on the field of play ...we cannot put our players in the situation where they might be booked or even forced to leave the field of play.
> - The seven federations in a joint statement

Who were the seven teams?

England, Netherlands, Wales, Belgium, Denmark, Germany and Switzerland. After FIFA's statement landed on Monday, the federations issued a joint statement saying they didn't want their players to carry on with the act because of the sanctions. "... we cannot put our players in the situation where they might be booked or even forced to leave the field of play," they said.

What happens now?

The choice is up to the captains of the seven teams. They can go rogue and take the yellow card if they so wish. Germany skipper Manuel Neuer has already suggested he may do this. "We have the complete backing of the (German Football Association), we have no fear," Neuer had remarked on Saturday before FIFA showed their hand. There is a vague law in the FIFA statutes that allow referees to book players. "The players must be inspected before the start of the match and substitutes before they enter the field of play," it says. "If a player is wearing or using unauthorised/ dangerous equipment or jewellery, the referee must order the player to a) remove item, b) leave field of play at the next stoppage if the player is unable or unwilling to comply. A player who refuses to comply or wears the item again must be cautioned."

Gakpo, Klaasen show Dutch of class in nick of time

TWO late goals gave the Netherlands a 2-0 victory over African champions Senegal on Monday as Louis van Gaal's men made the perfect start to their World Cup campaign in Qatar. The deadlock in a cagey Group A game was broken in the 84th minute when in-form winger Cody Gakpo glanced home Frenkie de Jong's cross, before substitute Davy Klaassen scored a second in added time. Results: Group A: Senegal 0-2 Netherlands. Group B: England 6-2 Iran.

Ron focussed on task ahead

Cristiano Ronaldo insisted Monday that his explosive row with Manchester United would not impact Portugal's chances at the World Cup as they prepare for their opening match in Qatar with Ghana. "I have no doubt that this recent episode, that interview, and other episodes with other players that happen sometimes, can sometimes shake the player but won't shake the team," Ronaldo said.

POSITIVE VIBES

Oz coach in jovial mood

DOHA: The daunting prospect of having to face defending World Cup champion France in his team's opening match certainly hasn't affected Australia coach Graham Arnold's sense of humor. A day after France defender Ibrahima Konaté said he didn't know any of the names in Australia's squad, Arnold questioned the player's television habits.

Poland's Szczesny backs Lewandowski

DOHA: Poland goalkeeper Wojciech Szczesny believes Robert Lewandowski will break his World Cup duck as his country aims to reach the knockout phase for the first time since 1986. Lewandowski failed to score four years ago in Russia. "I think it's definitely important for him (to score)," Szczesny said. "He's very motivated before the World Cup. No one doubts that Robert is one of the best players in the world right now."

WC ticketing app issue delays fans

DOHA: Problems with FIFA's mobile application for World Cup match tickets delayed fans from getting into the stadium to watch England play Iran on Monday. Hundreds of fans were lined up outside the Khalifa International Stadium less than an hour before the kickoff in Doha. "Some spectators are currently experiencing an issue with accessing their tickets," FIFA acknowledged.

Djokovic matches Federer's record

Novak Djokovic claimed a record-equaling sixth ATP Finals title by beating Casper Ruud. Djokovic on Sunday won 7-5, 6-3 to secure his first title at the event since 2015 and match Roger Federer's record. Djokovic, who had lost his two previous finals at the event, raised his arms out and smiled broadly after sealing the match with an ace.

JAGADEESAN ENTERS HISTORY BOOKS

Wicketkeeper-batter smashes 277 off 141 balls as Tamil Nadu thrash Arunachal by 435 runs in Vijay Hazare Trophy

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

AS many as five List A records in men's cricket were rewritten at the M Chinnaswamy Stadium in Bengaluru as Tamil Nadu thrashed Arunachal Pradesh in their Elite Group C match of the Vijay Hazare Trophy on Monday. Put into bat, wicketkeeper-batter Narayan Jagadeesan shattered the world record by hammering 277 off 141 runs as Tamil Nadu posted 506 for 2 in 50 overs and became the first team to breach 500-mark in List A cricket. The previous highest was 498 for 4 by England against the Netherlands earlier this year.

In reply, Arunachal Pradesh were bundled out for a paltry 71. M Siddharth scalped five wickets as Baba Indrajith-led side won the match by 435 runs, the biggest win in terms of runs in men's List A cricket.

Prior to Jagadeesan's 277, Alistair Brown's 268 against Glamorgan in 2002 was the highest individual score in men's List A cricket. Jagadeesan's score is also the highest score in all List A cricket, surpassing 271 not out by Sripali Weerakkody against Pushpadana Ladies in the 2007 Sri Lanka Women's one-day tournament.

The 26-year-old from Coimbatore Jagadeesan also became the first player to score hundreds in five consecutive innings in men's List A cricket. Previously, three batters had four centuries in a row — Kumar Sangakkara in 2014-15, Alviro Petersen in 2015-16 and Devdutt Padikkal in 2020-21. He also stitched together 416 with his opening partner B Sai Sudharsan and in the process, they became the first pair to share a 400-run stand for any wicket in men's List A cricket. The previous highest partnership was 372 between Chris Gayle and Marlon Samuels for the second wicket against Zimbabwe in 2015.

''Really very happy to get that score (277). Did not expect to make this big hundred and the record. As I said earlier, I try to follow the process and enjoy my game. I do not play with runs in mind. I am happy that I have been able to carry the momentum and the flow in all the games. For me enjoying my presence on the field is more important,'' said a modest Jagadeesan from Bengaluru after the day's play.

Jagadeesan took 114 balls to complete his double century, which is the joint-fastest in men's List A cricket. Travis Head also took 114 balls for his double ton against Queensland in the Marsh one-day cup last year. The TN cricketer hit 15 sixes in his innings, the most by any batter in a Vijay Hazare Trophy innings. The previous best was 12 sixes by Yashasvi Jaiswal during his 203 against Jharkhand in the 2019-20 season.

Does Jagadeesan expect the law of averages to catch up given his blazing form with the willow? ''I am not worried about runs. As I said before, if I enjoy my game and follow the process, things will automatically work.''

TN coach M Venkataramana was all praise for Jagadeesan. ''Superb innings, simply out of the world. Adi pinnitaan (simply whacked the ball),'' he said. '' As I said earlier, Jags is in the zone. He is high on confidence and has realised his true potential and that's why runs are flowing from the meat of the blade,'' the coach complimented.

Jagadeesan's strike rate (196.45) is the highest for any double hundred in men's List A cricket. The previous highest was 181.1 by Head when he scored 230 off 127 balls against Queensland in 2021. None of the remaining 36 double-centuries in this format had a strike rate of more than 175.

Sai Sudarshan had the best seat in the house when Jagadeesan rewrote the record books. ''It was a brilliant effort from Jagadeesan. Fortunate to see him play from close quarters. I learnt a lot during my stay with him. Superb timing, judicious shot selection and splendid technique are the secrets behind Jagadeesan's success. Of the five centuries Jagadeesan made, I would consider the one against Haryana as his best as the attack was good,'' opined Sai Sudarshan.

Five centuries by Jagadeesan in the ongoing Vijay Hazare Trophy is the most by any batter in an edition. Virat Kohli (2008-09), Devdutt Padikkal (2020-21), Prithvi Shaw (2020-21) and Ruturaj Gaikwad (2021-22) — all had four tons apiece in an edition of the tournament.

The five consecutive centuries meant Jagadeesan has scored 799 runs in the tournament so far. As his team has qualified for the quarterfinals, he looks set to surpass Shaw, who holds the record for scoring the most runs in an edition. The latter had scored 827 runs during the 2020-21 season.

Suspense on IOA top post continues

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

THE Indian Olympic Association election is getting more and more intriguing after the electoral college was decided on Monday. The Returning Officer of the IOA election, Umesh Sinha, released the names of 33 National Sports Federations and their 66 (one male and one female) valid members, eight Sportspersons of Outstanding Merit (SOMs), one International Olympic Committee member and two Athletes' Commission representatives. The number of persons who can vote will be 77 (39 female and 38 male) and they can file nominations for various posts in the Executive Council, including that of the president.

As reported by this newspaper, big names like the current chief minister of a state and a union minister, industrialists, former athletes, an actor and veteran IOA members are part of the electoral college. After Badminton Association of India president Himanta Biswa Sarma, who is the Assam chief minister and considered a top BJP leader, entered the fray, things got more perplexing. There are indications that he could be one of the potential candidates for the post of president. There are other indicators that suggest otherwise. He is a very busy chief minister and with the 2024 elections on the horizon, there would be quite a lot on his plate. The nominations will be filed from November 25 to 27 and a lot can change before that. But since he has decided to attend the Annual General Meeting and election on December 10 there are various possibilities in the mix. And there is no restriction in the IOA constitution that would force him to not contest.

There are other big names doing the rounds. Olympian and Athletics Federation of India president Adille Sumariwalla, whom most members of the IOA selected to be the acting president after Narinder Batra stepped down, is expected to get the same backing. There were some 16 members of the old EC who supported him. They were against IOA secretary general Rajiv Mehta's faction. It needs to be seen if Sumariwalla would throw his hat in the ring. BFI chief Ajay Singh too is a strong candidate. Then there is one name that everyone is looking at keenly — International Olympic Committee member Nita Ambani. No one is ruling her out either. Indications are consensus would be the word that would be dominant when members decide to stand for elections especially, for the president's post.

However, there are other posts in the EC too. The bargaining chips of all factions will be out. There is a senior vice president and two vice presidents' posts. There will be two joint secretaries and six EC members (one male and one female from the SOMs). Two athletes' representatives (chairperson Mary Kom and vice chairperson Sharath Kamal) have already been decided. There are BJP leaders in the electoral college Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh, president of Wrestling Federation of India, Arjun Munda of Archery Association, Kalyan Chaubey of All India Football Federation, Anil Jain of All India Tennis Association and there is chairman and managing director of Spicejet Ajay Singh of Boxing Federation of India and actor Rahul Bose of Indian Rugby Football Union. Whatever happens, the next two days of hectic parleys and negotiations will pave way for the next set of office bearers.

'IT'S LIBERATING TO WORK ON POETRY'

Poet and author Jeet Thayil shares his thoughts about poetry in the time of Instagram, why writing is therapeutic and more

SIMI KURIAKOSE

APART from being an author, poet and musician, Jeet Thayil (63) knows how to keep an audience captivated. We met Thayil at a bookstore and art gallery in Gurugram — where he spent an evening reading his poems to a room full of enthusiasts. We speak to the author about writing, poetry in the time of Instagram, and more. Edited excerpts.

A number of your books delve into personal experiences. How easy or difficult is that for you to do so?

I've done that a lot — used personal experiences in autobiographical details. But eventually you add imagination and elements of fiction to it. But there are poems that I might have written a while ago that are so deeply personal, I find it difficult to read them. Strangely, when I wrote them, it wasn't that difficult, because it really is of that moment and you're trying to discover something about what happened, or about yourself, or about someone else. You're caught up in the craft of it, so it doesn't seem like such a raw thing to do.

Many writers want their readers to know them in a certain way. When you write something so personal, you give the reader a lot of information —both about you as a writer and as a person. Have you ever worried about that?

I wrote Narcopolis (2012), and so I don't think anyone can perceive me in any more of a derogatory fashion than they already have [laughs], because that's a book that deals with things society would not have anything to do with, right? So that's not something that's ever bothered me much. But it bothers Indian writers, because we're always worried about what our aunts, uncles, and long-lost second cousins will think. It's an unnecessary burden to place on yourself. Because writing is a burden enough.

You mentioned that after turning 40, you've become more disciplined about writing. Is that more therapeutic or is it a way to make sure your deadlines are on track?

It's absolutely therapeutic. I find it's a way of grounding myself and providing some sense of continuity in my life because otherwise I have very little of those things. When I work on one thing every day, it calms me down. Second, when you're working on a novel, for example, that requires structure and characters that live on the page, it becomes something that you have to live with every day. Only when you're living inside that imaginative world on a daily basis, does it grow and become something that you could never have envisioned when you began work on it.

> Around '21, I began to look at online poetry in a way that I never had. I discovered some amazing poets through Instagram. It's something that poets of my generation could never have imagined because we wrote poems and all we could do is show them to friends
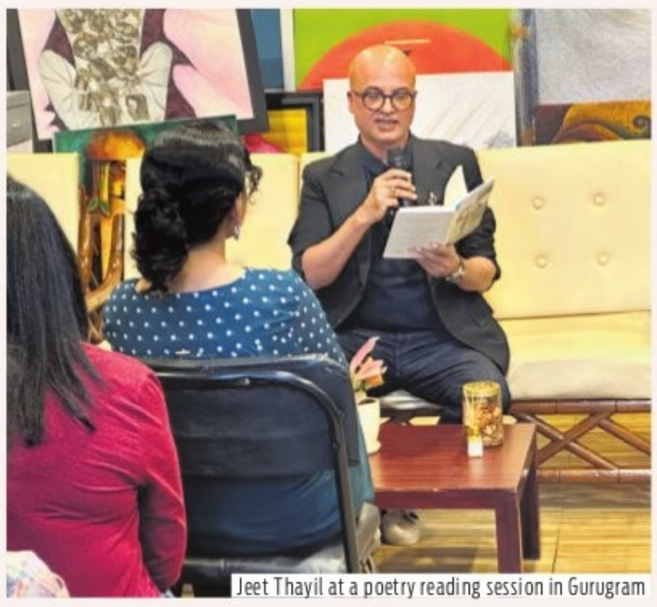
> —Jeet Thayil

Your research on The Penguin Book of Indian Poets (2022), which is an anthology you edited and comprises works by poets from India and the Indian diaspora, must have been extensive and spans across mediums like books and Instagram. Did you always read poems on Instagram?

No! That was a pandemic thing. Around 2021, I began to look at online poetry in a way that I never had. I discovered some amazing poets through Instagram. It's something that poets of my generation could never have imagined because we wrote poems and all we could do is show them to friends. There was never a question of writing a poem and it being read by thousands. In that sense, Instagram is a wonderful thing because poets, in any case, are isolated beings who live and work alone and are full of doubt, fear and confusion.



Jeet Thayil at a poetry reading session in Gurugram

In an interview, you mentioned that this anthology is like the history of India. Can you elaborate?

The book begins with Nissim Ezekiel, who published his first book in 1952 [A Time to Change], which is five years after Indian independence. Immediately that sets it up as a history of India that begins with Indian independence and continues through the 20th century. This anthology is political in some ways; there are poems throughout that refer to what was happening at the time of composition in this country and particularly in the poet's consciousness. If you were to read this anthology as a historical statement, you will find it. It's possible to construct an alternate history of India written by the poets, right up to the poems that have been written in 2021. That's [from 1952 to 2021] a large chunk of Indian history, and because this is a history told by poets, it's, in my opinion — historians might disagree with me — a far more profound version of Indian history than you will receive from a history book.

Is there another novel/book of poems we can expect from you soon?

I've just finished a novel. At the moment, I'm writing poems for the first time since 2008, which was when These Errors are Correct appeared, which has been reissued by Penguin. It's liberating to work on poetry rather than prose.

Hat-trick for Ricky Kej

Ricky Kej's Divine Tides, which was created with Rock legend Stewart Copeland, got nominated in the Best Immersive Audio Music category at the 65th Grammy's. Kej, who has been attending the awards function for the past eight years, has already started preparing for the 2023 Grammys taking place in February.

Music to the ears

City-based musician Sanjeeta Bhattacharya's debut album, Shuruaat, has been nominated for the 65th Grammys; she shares how she is keeping her excitement levels low although expectations are high

MONIKA MONALISA

IT was nothing short of an iconic moment for Berklee College of Music when the Berklee Indian Ensemble was nominated for a 65th Grammy for its debut album, Shuruaat, in the category of Best Global Music Album. Singer-actor Sanjeeta Bhattacharya, who lives in the city and was also part of the album, says the excitement of the news has not dimmed a bit since it broke.

Bhattacharya got the news in an email from Annette Philips, the brain behind the ensemble. "Annette sent the mail to everybody saying this has happened," says an excited Bhattacharya. Out of the 10 songs in the album, she was in two songs – Jago Piya and Pinha. "The members of the ensemble keep changing as students graduate. The part I did was recorded in 2014," says Bhattacharya.

The ensemble gained popularity among people because of the tribute to the AR Rahman concert. "During that time we were also writing original music so this album has songs written and arranged by the members of the ensemble," says Bhattacharya, adding, "I am glad to be a small part of something that is very big. And I hope it motivates me as an ensemble to create more original music."

Though part of a huge team, the feeling is nothing less than personal for her. "Being nominated is a big deal. I never thought that I would be part of something that would be considered for the Grammy's. Everybody is elated. Let us see what happens, my fingers are crossed. If we actually win, it will be something extraordinary," she says.

In recent times, Bhattacharya released her original, Out Of Tune. "I wrote it about two years ago and waited that long for it to come out. It didn't take that much time to make the song, it's just that there were other things happening in life. For me, this song is closest to my heart. It is very different sounding than anything else I have done recently," she says.

With an extremely busy year, she is currently shuttling between three cities. "Mumbai, because I have been acting lately and the movie is going to come out next year; Delhi, since I am originally from the city; and Bengaluru since I moved here recently," she says with a smile.

QUICK FIX

CHICKPEAS FLOUR CREPES

Contributed by Priya Shiva, Chennai

INGREDIENTS

- Chickpea flour: 1 cup
- Turmeric powder: 1/4 tsp
- Onion: 1, finely chopped
- Green chillies: 2, finely chopped
- Grated ginger: 1 tbsp
- Coriander leaves: 2 tbsp
- Asafoetida: 1/4 tsp
- Salt to taste
- Oil: 4 tbsp

METHOD

- Add chickpea flour, turmeric powder, salt, asafoetida and 1/2 cup of water in a mixing bowl. Mix well to make a smooth batter.
- Now add chopped onions, green chillies, grated ginger and chopped coriander leaves and mix well.
- Heat a griddle/tawa for a minute. Lower the flame and smear little oil on the pan.
- Take a ladleful of batter and pour on the center of the griddle. Immediately spread it on the pan in circular motion to make a round crepe.
- Add a few drops of oil on the edges and let it cook for a minute.
- Flip, add a few drops of oil and let it cook for another minute.
- Serve it hot with ketchup or mint chutney.

FIT BIT

BHUJANGASANA HANDS OFF FLOOR
(COBRA POSE HANDS OFF FLOOR)

Here, the arms are off the floor and one needs strength to maintain alignment. It prepares the practitioners for intensive poses and deeper backbends. It enhances immunity. Yoga teachers can add this as part of back & core strengthening sequences.

STEPS

- Start in Makarasana (Crocodile Pose) or Advasana (Reverse Corpse Pose). Keep the body relaxed and prepare the mind for the flow.
- Place your palms close to your upper abdomen at chest level on the floor.
- The arms and elbows should be aligned close to your body. Keeping the toes and heels together, align the legs and lower back as you breathe.
- Inhale, lift the chest and shoulders and take the body backward with elbows bent. Exhale.
- Bend the neck backward slightly and gaze ahead. This is Bhujangasana Variation Elbows. From here, as you inhale, lift the palms off the floor. Exhale completely.
- Keep breathing. Hold the pose for 2-3 breaths or as per capacity.
- If you feel you may lose balance, focus on your breath and remain stable.
- To release the pose, first relax the arms and shoulders and bring the palms back to the floor.
- Then, lower the neck gradually and place the forehead on the floor. Relax now in Makarasana. Repeat as per capacity.

LIMITATIONS

Those with carpal tunnel syndrome or any injury to the back, arms, or shoulders, recent abdominal surgery, and pregnant women, avoid this.

BENEFITS

- It creates body awareness consciously.
- It not only makes your body flexible but also fills the muscles with great physical strength.
- Activates the proper functioning of digestive organs.
- Heals lungs and respiratory disorders like asthma, allergies and other such disorders.
- A good blood circulation ensures a good transport of nutrients, hormones, and oxygen removing unnecessary waste products.
- Natural relief from backache, neck ache and other such ailments.
- Relieves the leg from sciatica pain by softening the spinal impingement.
- Kneads abdominal organs certifying a healthy urinary system and proper waste elimination.
- Kundalini awakening infuses the muscle and body with extreme strength.
- Keeps the seven chakras of the body balanced.

THE URBAN DAY CONUNDRUM

OPEN SPACE
Gulnaar Mirza
Associate Editor

Last week, I paid the bill for yet another Pooh, that fluffball bear toy which sits on every little girl's bed. My daughter is 21, yet her habit (or fixation) has survived childhood and teenhood. Like her, thousands of kids have a tagalong Pooh in their baggage, which they carry into adulthood. It all started with a loving aunt gifting her Winnie the Pooh, who became an integral part of every outing and vacation, and for us, a new responsibility. The adventurous fellow once fell off a train just as it was chugging out of the platform at Yeshwanthpur; he was swiftly rescued by the agile better half, who would have preferred to catch the next train than lose Pooh and face the consequences.

One day, Pooh just disappeared, probably a casualty of being ferried all over. To lessen the heartbreak, many soft toys followed – all were named Pooh but none could replace the original. Pooh is just an indication of what our urban kids miss – interaction with animals, which manifested in some wild demands, from an elephant calf or pony (can be tethered under the staircase) to a tiger cub or snake.

By and by, I realised these demands were normal. To keep the little Mowgli entertained, we turned the house into an animal farm, quite literally. Years were spent feeding and cleaning up after the pet of the season, with kittens making intermittent entries and exits.

In the chick phase, six colourful balls raced all over the house. The toughest job was to chase them to safety – even Kiara, the dog rescued a recalcitrant one disappearing under the gate. Only one survived, turning into a raucous hen who had to be donated. The lovebirds lasted just a week – one flew out when the cage was being cleaned, and its love was sent back to the store. Then came the stinky rabbit phase – four arrived, and the resident German Shepherd was evicted from her kennel. After a watchful tomcat turned one into dinner, the others were returned to the original owner.

Parameshwara the tiny green turtle and even tinier Pushpesh (why they were so named is still a mystery) were independent beings, toddling off where their hearts led them. It was a lost-and-found game with them: When we all but gave up on them, they would turn up months later, and were better off at the aquarium store. To help out a friend's friend who was moving out, we adopted their two big rocky turtles. They roamed all over the backyard and kennel, but constantly tried to escape. One even had to be rescued from between the wheels of a car.

All these animals taught us one hard lesson: they wanted to be free, not cooped up in kennels and cages. In our urban jungle, we are better off with our inanimate Poohs...

DRAWING A DREAM

In the city for Comic Con Bengaluru, Raymund Bermudez, an illustrator who has worked for Marvel and DC Comics, shares his experience, beginnings in the field, and major influences

TUNIR BISWAS

Raymund Bermudez's rendition of Hellboy, one of his most famous artworks

RAYMUND Bermudez's venture into a career as an illustrator was a risky affair. Earning a decent living as a director and concept artist at an advertising company in the Philippines in 2013, the window to his dream opened up when CB Cebulski, editor-in-chief of Marvel Comics, announced a talent hunt in his hometown.

"I had to grab it. It was a once-in-a-lifetime chance. I was fortunate to be one of the finalists at the competition. After it ended, it took a while, almost a year and a half, for me to actually start working as an illustrator. I had even quit my job against my wife's wishes," laughs Bermudez, who's first project as a professional illustrator was not for Marvel but for their rival DC Comics.

Having worked for both Marvel and DC over the course of the past decade, Bermudez now works as a full-time senior concept artist at Zebu Animation Studios, a Thiruvananthapuram-based computer animation studio who have two of their three offices set up in Karnataka: one in Bengaluru and the other at Hubballi. Known for his intricate artwork of popular characters such as Hellboy and Venom, Bermudez was one of the main attractions at the Comic Con Bengaluru held over the weekend. In fact, he feels this has been his best experience at a Comic Con.

"This is my first time in India and I have been around the world attending similar events, but this has actually been my best experience at a Comic Con so far. The fans were amazing," quips Bermudez, who had come to the event accompanied with his wife, a fashion designer.

Bermudez prefers to work for DC than Marvel. "Well, I enjoyed working for both. Both tend to be a little strict with their deadlines but they're good people to work with. I only prefer my time at DC because I worked for them more. Usually, people who work for DC used to work for Marvel and vice versa, so you end upmeeting a lot of the same people," he shares.

He feels with the advent of social media, opportunities for independent comic creators have increased multifold. "Social media has given a huge platform for independent illustrators and smaller companies to get a following. Everyone from the artists, the writers to the colourists have a space to get known now. I had to take a leap of faith and win a talent hunt but now it is much easier to get your work out there and be noticed." says Bermudez.

This year has also been one of tragedy for him after the famous South Korean illustrator Kim Gung Gi, whose work had greatly influenced Bermudez, passed away on October 3. "When I was got the news of his passing, I didn't believe it and thought it was a mean joke. Over the years, he had become a friend of mine as well. So when the news was confirmed, I was really affected. He was one of the world's best in our field. Someone like that passing at a young age of 47 is a grave loss for the community," he concludes, adding that he has always tried to incorporate elements of Gi's artistic style in his work.

River Comics CEO Japan M Thakar, in town for Comic Con Bengaluru, on their digital app, motion graphics and collaborating with Bombay Lokal...

TUNIR BISWAS

River Comics CEO Japan M Thakar with people cosplaying as characters from his production

JAPAN M Thakar has always loved comic books. After being unable to produce a movie based on a script he had written due to budgetary constraints, a 19-year-old Thakar in New Jersey eventually went on to found River Comics. This, after getting inspired from one of his college classes over a decade ago. Since then, River Comics has gone through many changes, a significant one being a step towards the digital direction.

"We originally were just publishing comic books. But then we decided to innovate because the entire process of printing books, distributing them and convincing stores to buy our books was becoming very hectic. So, we decided to go digital," says Thakar, who is on a tour of multiple Comic Cons in the country.

In Bengaluru to attend the Comic Con, Thakar and his team were here to show their new app, which takes the user through all the original works of River Comics containing motion graphics, one of few in the country to use this technology. "After going digital, we continued to innovate. That is when I came up with the motion graphics idea. We then added voiceovers, music and multiple languages to make sure we offer an engaging and interesting experience," says Thakar, adding that they're in the process of adding Kannada, Tamil, Telugu and other regional languages to the app.

Thakar also feels motion graphics help River Comics battle the reduced attention spans of today's generation. "We have kept our episodes purposely between five to seven minutes. Our content also has enough diversity as we cover everything from history to culture," he says.

After working with various artistes in the past, including actor Bhagyashree, their latest collaboration is with the famed Mumbai-based hip-hop collective Bombay Lokal who created a song for River Comics and performed it on Sunday. "We've always felt artistes and celebrities can help elevate our message. With this recent collaboration, Bombay Lokal gave us a specific track, which they made for us. We are really excited for it since we haven't had that done before. We hope to be working with more such artistes in the future as well," concludes Thakar.

DARSHAN IS A STAR WHO VALUES EVERY ARTISTE : DHARAMANNA KADUR

The actor talks about working with the Challenging star for the third time in Kranti

A SHARADHAA

A still from Kranti

DHARAMANNA Kadur, who made his mark with Rama Rama Re, later rose to popularity for his supporting roles in many films. Dharamanna, who has worked with Darshan in films like Inspector Vikram and Roberrt, is set to star alongside the Challenging Star in Kranti. "I will be working with him again in Garadi," he says, adding, "In Kranti, I play his friend, and will have a constant presence throughout the runtime. To be working alongside the actor is always a pleasure."

Dharamanna shares that one of Darshan's admirable qualities is his offscreen persona. "People who know the real Darshan understand his value. He is a star, who notices every artiste, irrespective of the length of their roles, and makes sure they get equal recognition. I experienced this firsthand at a recent event in Hiriyur, where he called my name on stage, and introduced me to the whole gathering. Post the event, I had his fans calling me and sending me lovely messages on social media too. It was an emotional moment for me when a star like him brought me to the forefront. This one gesture from a star is sure to take an actor like me a really long way. " says the actor.

Dharamanna, who shot his portions in a 15-day schedule, says shooting for Kranti was a huge experience. "As a friend to Darshan sir in the film, I am also part of a song, and will be seen in fight sequences," he says.

According to Dharamanna, Kranti is a pucca mass entertainer, underlined with a glaring issue of reduced prominence to Government schools, and the impact of privatisation of education.

"Keeping in with the current situation, this film gives a picture of how education might look in the future. It is a thought-provoking experience that needs to be experienced on the silver screen," he says.

The film, which stars Rachita Ram, Ravichandran, Umashree, Mukhyamantri Chandru, Samyuktha Hornad, Vainidhi Jagadish, and Raghu, is slated for a January 26 release, Kranti, produced by Shylaja Nag and B Suresha under Media House Studio banner, has director Harikrishna doubling up as the music composer, and has cinematography by Karunakar.

Shah Rukh Khan to be honoured at the upcoming Red Sea IFF

CE FEATURES

THE Red Sea International Film Festival announced on Monday that actor-producer Shah Rukh Khan will receive an Honorary Award for his exceptional contribution to the film industry, during the opening ceremony of the festival's second edition in Jeddah, on the Eastern shore of the Red Sea.

Mohammed Al Turki, CEO of the Red Sea IFF, commented: "We are thrilled to be honoring Shah Rukh Khan, who is a remarkable talent and global superstar. He has captivated audiences since his earliest performances and is one of the world's most renowned actors working today. After 30 years in the industry, Shah Rukh Khan remains one of the most successful superstars of Indian cinema and is beloved by audiences around the world. We look forward to welcoming him to Jeddah this December."

Shah Rukh Khan added: "I am truly honored to receive this award from the Red Sea International Film Festival. It's wonderful to be here among my fans from Saudi Arabia and the region who have always been huge supporters of my films. I'm looking forward to celebrating the region's talent and being a part of this exciting film community."

'This is the first time, I'm part of a retro-based love story'

says Ajay Rao, about his upcoming film with director Manju Swaraj; the film marks the debut of Misha Narang in Kannada

Misha Narang

Ajay Rao

CE FEATURES

ACTOR Ajay Rao, who will be juggling two projects has started shooting for director Manju Swaraj's upcoming directorial, which has been happening in Mysuru from November 14.

The retro love story set in the 1970s has Misha Narang playing the lead. The actor from Delhi has previously worked in Telugu films, and the yet-to-be-titled film marks her Kannada debut. The film also has Rangayana Raghu along with other actors playing pivotal characters.

The makers are currently shooting the portions involving the lead pair, the other actors will join the next schedule.

Ajay Rao, who has a penchant for love stories, says Ajaneesh Loknath's music will play a major role in this film. "It is a film, which is set before the existence of mobiles when communication with loved ones was a task. This is my first period love story, and my character is quite interesting," says Ajay, about his latest film bankrolled by first-time producer Lohith Nanjundaya. "The team plans to reveal the looks, and more details of the film after this schedule," he says.

Meanwhile, the actor Ajay Rao, who is bankrolling his next project and also playing the lead in Pavan Bhat's (Cutting Shop) directorial, will be revealing the title teaser on November 25.

'ACTING IS NEVER A RELAXING JOB'

...says Ishan, who talks about his second outing, Raymo, which is a romantic musical drama helmed by Pavan Wadeyar

CE FEATRES

DESPITE being introduced to tinsel town with Puri Jagannadh's Rogue, Ishan did have his share of struggles. The actor shares that the search for unique subjects made him go through 52 scripts before zeroing in on Pavan Wadeyar's Raymo. The actor, who has waited almost 5 years since his debut, finally gets to see his second outing hitting the theatres this week. "The pandemic was a roadblock in my flourishing career. In fact, Raymo was supposed to come out in 2020, but nothing fell into place. Now I've put everything on the back burner, and hoping for the best," says the actor.

Ishan is among the new generation of actors, who are out to prove their worth to the world without the backing of a godfather. "Acting is never a relaxing job. You always have to knock on doors, and find ways to prove yourself to the industry and the world," he says.

Talking about his role, Ishan says that Pavan Wadeyar has sketched a unique character for his role as a singer. "Love stories are like old wine in a new bottle. Just like how the flavour gets better with time, and never loses its essence, Raymo too will be evergreen," says Ishan, who is sharing screen space with Ashika Ranganath for the first time in the musical romantic drama. The film has music by Arjun Janya, and cinematography by Vaidy.

Raymo also stars noted actors Madhoo, Sarathkumar, Revanth Deshpande, Achyuth Kumar, and Rajesh Nataranga in pivotal roles.

After Raymo, Ishan will collaborate with Bahaddhur director Chethan Kumar, and is in talks for a project with Harsha. "The gap between Rogue and Raymo has taught me a lot of lessons. It's time I pull up my socks, and try to deliver at least two releases every year," he signs off.

Vishal Jethwa watched videos of DMD patients for Salaam Venky

CE FEATRES

VISHAL Jethwa (Mardaani 2, Human) portrays a spirited but terminally-ill boy in Revathy's upcoming directorial Salaam Venky. The film stars Kajol as a mother who goes against all odds to fulfill her son's dying wish.

Salaam Venky stars Vishal as Venkatesh, whose health is deteriorating quickly, yet who is prepared to fight for every moment. Talking about his preparation and what helped him to get into the role, Vishal shares, "Ever since I have started my journey as an actor, I have understood that I am my directors actor, I always try to figure on set what my director is expecting from me and I try to deliver it".

He adds, "To get into Venkatesh character I saw several videos of DMD (Duchenne muscular dystrophy) patients as its a rare disease and not many are aware about it. I saw many videos to study how the patient behaves, how they talk, their body language, their entire day routine. Until which age what body part supports them etc... So I tried to understand and get the information and give my best to perform the character realistically."

'Tribble Riding is a fresh take on love and break ups'

CE FEATRES

TRIBBLE Riding might be Mahesh Gowda's first film with Ganesh, but the director has known the actor since Mungaru Male Days, as he worked as a co-director of Yogaraj Bhat then.

Mahesh has also worked as an associate in various films including Suri's Duniya. He made his directorial debut with Vinod Prabhakar's Rugged, and Tribble Riding is his second outing.

The director, who has come up with a family entertainer blended with love, feels Ganesh's versatility perfectly fits the bill and makes him the perfect chioce for Tribble Riding.

"Ganesh is one of the few actors who bring life to his characters. He will be playing a doctor in Tribble Riding," says Mahesh, whose films usually blend with love, comedy and sentiment. The director reveals the idea behind titling his film Tribble Riding. "The film features three heroines (Aditi Prabhudeva, Megha Shetty, and Rachana Inder), whose characters are named Ramya, Rakshita and Radhika. Hence the title. We also have a surprise character named Rashmika. This fourth heroine will be revealed on the silver screen," says the director, adding, "Tribble Riding is a fresh take on love and heartbreaks. It is a family entertainer with a great package of suspense, comedy, action and songs," says the director, who has an ensemble cast part of the project including Sadhu Kokila, Ravi Shankar, Sharath Lohithashwa, Shobhraj, Rangyana Raghu, Achyuth Kumar, Kuri Pratap, and Aravind Bodar. "We also have actor Anirudh playing a special character, that is another surprise."

Tribble Riding bankrolled by Ramgopal is slated for a November 25 release. Sai Kartheek has scored the music for the film.
